finance 2 e as buy outs became larger and more levered in the mid 2000 s the european leveraged finance market experienced a wave of innovations this research is concentrating on the capitalisation process of leveraged buy outs in europe taking the perspective of an equity investor we embark on the quest for the optimal capital structure by constructing an integrated model based on traditionalist irrelevance hypothesis and modernist tax risky debt and costly contracting hypothesis views in a second step we review common terms of financing instruments used in european buy outs ie senior debt mezzanine high yield preferred equity equity in the light of these theoretical insights finally the capitalisation process is embedded in a broader framework for value levers in buy out transactions and an outlook on further research is given this research provides a solid review of relevant literature on capital structure eg modigliani miller agency theory and can be used as an introduction for the inexperienced reader the consistent mapping of common financing terms against relevant theoretical hypothesis is unique among related literature corporate finance by ross accompanied by connect an exciting new homework management system seminar paper from the year 2006 in the subject business economics investment and finance grade 1 7 european business school international university schlo reichartshausen oestrich winkel course seminar in finance banking language english abstract this paper analyzes dual tracking a useful marketing tool to increase the valuation of a private company in line with this paper dual tracking only refers to the choice between m a and ipo in later stages of the selling process in spite of an increasing number of major dual tracks the idea is still widely unknown in particular the scholastic world has rarely picked up this subject this lack of academic research motivates to explore the concept in more detail thereby the focus lies on the choice between m a and ipo and on the interaction between the equity market and the m a market in this context the key question is how the capital market reacts to an acquisition of a dual tracking firm diploma thesis from the year 2007 in the subject business economics investment and finance grade 1 3 european business school international university schlo reichartshausen oestrich winkel 80 entries in the bibliography language english abstract this paper aims at establishing a link between the average level of initial return of ipo shares existing underpricing explanations and the dot com bubble in years prior to the boom of the new economy underpricing was explained by various theories which have extensively been developed since decades however in the years 1998 to 2001 ipos were overly underpriced leading to assumptions about behavioural aspects and investor irrationality analysing a comprehensive dataset of 371 ipos on the frankfurter b rse between 1997 and 2007 this paper aims at providing evidence that the observed lower levels of initial returns in recent years can indeed be aligned with existing theories on the basis of rational behaviour of market participants firstly the ipo process and its major participants will be presented followed by a review of relevant studies on the ipo phenomenon in the next step established underpricing theories are recapitulated a descriptive analysis of the data sample points out the particularities concerning the company and transaction characteristics of the sample firms in a last step a regression analysis relates various proxies for information asymmetry to established underpricing theories it gives reason to believe that the irrationality at the turn of the century has vanished and that underpricing can again be explained by established theories corporate finance core was developed for the graduate mba level as a concise up to date and to the point product the majority of which can be realistically covered in a single term or course to achieve the objective of reaching out to the many different types of students and the varying course settings corporate finance is distilled down to its core while maintaining a decidedly modern approach purely theoretical issues are downplayed and the use of extensive and elaborate calculations is minimized to illustrate points that are either intuitively obvious or of limited practical use the goal was to focus on what students really need to carry away from a principles course a balance is struck by introducing and covering the essentials while leaving more specialized topics to follow up courses net present value is treated as the underlying and unifying concept in corporate finance every subject covered is firmly rooted in valuation and care is taken throughout to explain how particular decisions have valuation effects also the role of the financial manager as decision maker is emphasized and the need for managerial input and judgment is stressed
