new borders and new communities new molds want to be filled with blood and power will be wielded with a hard fist ernst jünger 1918 for the western allies 11 november 1918 has always been a solemn date the end of fighting which had destroyed a generation and also a vindication of a terrible sacrifice with the total collapse of their principal enemies the german empire austria hungary and the ottoman empire but for much of the rest of europe this was a day with no meaning as a continuing nightmarish series of conflicts engulfed country after country in this highly original gripping book robert gerwarth asks us to think again about the true legacy of the first world war in large part it was not the fighting on the western front which proved so ruinous to europe's future but the devastating aftermath as countries on both sides of the original conflict were wrecked by revolution pogroms mass expulsions and further major military clashes if the war itself had in most places been a struggle purely between state backed soldiers these new conflicts were mainly about civilians and paramilitaries and millions of people died across central eastern and south eastern europe before the ussr and a series of rickety and exhausted small new states came into being everywhere there were vengeful people their lives racked by a murderous sense of injustice and looking for the opportunity to take retribution against enemies real and imaginary only a decade later the rise of the third reich and other totalitarian states provided them with the opportunity they had been looking for this work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and
