this is the story of my dismissal as the catholic bishop of the diocese of toowoomba in queensland australia it relates from my perspective the dealings i had with various congregations dicasteries of the vatican s curia in rome and with certain cardinals and officials in those congregations as well as with pope benedict xvi regarding pastoral activities and a letter i wrote to the diocese in advent of 2006 while the bishop of toowoomba the book details the background and events which led to my being asked by pope benedict xvi to resign as bishop of toowoomba when i had a meeting with him in rome on the 4th of june 2009 i did not agree to resign but negotiated with pope benedict to take early retirement which was announced on 2 may 2011 the book is accompanied by various appendices of documents and letters from this period including several letters from cardinals in rome and the pope some of the documents and the appendices have already been published in various places or are in the public domain in some way they are published here again so that these documents are all in one place the book has been written to give the story from my perspective of what happened in the lead up to my taking early retirement after refusing to resign in the view of a number of civil lawyers canon lawyers and theologians both here in australia and overseas i was deprived of natural justice as i was in no way able to appeal the judgments or decisions that were made in these circumstances this was made clear to me by the three cardinals in rome with whom i had most contact over the time and by pope benedict xvi himself in recent years anthropologists historians and others have been drawn to study the profuse and creative usages of digital media by religious movements at the same time scholars of christian africa have long been concerned with the history of textual culture the politics of bible translation and the status of the vernacular in christianity students of islam in africa have similarly examined politics of knowledge the transmission of learning in written form and the influence of new media until now however these arenas christianity and islam digital media and old media have been studied separately religion media and marginality in modern africa is one of the first volumes to put new media and old media into significant conversation with one another and also offers a rare comparison between christianity and islam in africa the contributors find many previously unacknowledged correspondences among different media and between the two faiths in the process they challenge the technological determinism the notion that certain types of media generate particular forms of religious expression that haunts many studies in evaluating how media usage and religious commitment intersect in the social cultural and political landscapes of modern africa this collection will contribute to the development of new paradigms for media and religious studies contributors heike behrend andre chappatte maria frahm arp david gordon liz gunner bruce s hall sean hanretta jorg haustein katrien pype and asonzeh ukah
