Lund 2016 mandated to foster a sense of national cohesion the national film board of canada s still photography division was the country s official photographer during the mid twentieth century like the farm security administration and other agencies in the us the nfb used photographs to serve the nation division photographers shot everything from official state functions to images of the routine events of daily life producing some of the most dynamic photographs of the time seen by millions of canadians and international audiences in newspapers magazines exhibitions and filmstrips in the official picture carol payne argues that the still photography division played a significant role in canadian nation building during wii and the two decades that followed payne examines key images themes and periods in the division s history including the depiction of women munitions workers landscape photography in the 1950s and 60s and portraits of canadians during the centennial in 1967 to demonstrate how abstract concepts of nationhood and citizenship as well as attitudes toward gender class linguistic identity and conceptions of race were reproduced in photographs the official picture looks closely at the work of many division photographers from staff members chris lund and gar lunney during the 1940s and 1950s to the expressive documentary photography of michel lambeth michael semak and pierre gaudard in the 1960s and after the division also produced a substantial body of northern imagery documenting inuit and native peoples payne details how inuit groups have turned to the archive in recent years in an effort to reaffirm their own cultural identity for decades the still photography division served as the country s image bank producing a government endorsed official picture of canada a rich archival study the official picture brings the hisotry of the division long overshadowed by the board s cinematic divisions to light images each of the 15 chapters deconstructs an incredible photoshop compositing process showing the final image in full page full color glory with an accompanying description of lund s creative approach to the assignment and a detailed step by step explanation of particular techniques used in the project so how d he make that fire breathing dragon why with images of a pet iguana flame a wall and the sky of course

to those using pictures it is therefore essentially the competence of using pictures that has to be considered such competence is not common among higher developed mammals at least as far as we know today this fact raises the question whether and to what extent that ability has to be conceived as a strictly anthropological one in an interdisciplinary approach the first international conference of the society for interdisciplinary image science gib titled origins of pictures has taken a closer look at the role of pictures for the conditio humana the primary goal of the conference was to present empirical findings of the origins of picture uses considering in particular research in paleo anthropology archeology cultural anthropology and developmental psychology furthermore those findings were to be related to philosophical considerations concerning the conditions of the conceptual formation of picture competence

Photo-era 1902 to many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction for example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure the history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension during hollywood s economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility these examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media s technological transition in practices of projection histories and technologies volume editors gabriel menotti and virginia crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone borrowing media theorist siegfried zielinski s definition menotti and crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture from this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies

Depicting Canada's Children 2009-05-20 libraries archives and museums hold a wide variety of moving images all of which require the same level of attention to issues of organization and access as their print counterparts consequently the people who create collection level records and metadata for these resources need to be equally conversant in the principles of cataloging martha yee covers both descriptive aacr2r amim and fiaf rules and subject cataloging with a focus on lcsb in the process the reader is encouraged to think critically and to be prepared to make decisions in ambiguous situations where solutions to problems are not always obvious or clearly dictated by specific rules Photography 1895 interchange fourth edition is a four level series for adult and young adult learners of english from the beginning to the high intermediate level interchange fourth edition full contact with self study dvd rom intro includes four key components of the
