Analysis of Spark-ignition Engine Knock as Seen in Photographs Taken at 200,000 Frames a Second 1946 a motion picture of the development of knock in a spark ignition engine is presented which consists of 20 photographs taken at intervals of 5 microseconds or at a rate of 200 000 photographs a second with an equivalent wide open exposure time of 6 4 microseconds for each photograph a motion picture of a complete combustion process including the development of knock taken at the rate of 40 000 photographs a second is also presented to assist the reader in orienting the photographs of the knock development taken at 200 000 frames per second are analyzed and the conclusion is made that the type of knock in the spark ignition engine involving violent gas vibration originates as a self propagating disturbance starting at a point in the burning or autoigniting gases and spreading out from that point through the incompletely burned gases at a rate as high as 6800 feet per second or about twice the speed of sound in the burned gases apparent formation of free carbon particles in both the burning and the burned gas is observed within 10 microseconds after passage of the knock disturbance through the gases

The Girl Who Was Taken 2002 an examination of how the mobile phone has become part of the fabric of society as did such earlier technologies as the clock and the car why do we feel insulted or exasperated when our friends and family don t answer their mobile phones if the internet has allowed us to broaden our social world into a virtual friend net the mobile phone is an instrument of a more intimate social sphere the mobile phone provides a taken for granted link to the people to whom we are closest when we are without it social and domestic disarray may result in just a few years the mobile phone has become central to the functioning of society in this book rich ling explores the process by which the mobile phone has become embedded in society comparing it to earlier technologies that changed the character of our social interaction and along the way became taken for granted ling drawing on research interviews and quantitative material shows how the mobile phone and the clock and the automobile before it can be regarded as a social mediation technology with a critical mass of users a supporting ideology changes in the social ecology and a web of mutual expectations regarding use by examining the similarities and synergies among these three technologies ling sheds a more general light on how technical systems become embedded in society and how they support social interaction within the closest sphere of friends and family

The Road Not Taken 1911 this unique book provides a multidisciplinary review of current climate change research projects at universities around the globe offering perspectives from all of the natural and social sciences numerous universities worldwide pursue state of the art research on climate change focussing on mitigation of its effects as well as human adaptation to it however the 2015 paris 21st conference of the parties of the united nations framework convention on climate change unfccc cop 21 demonstrated that there is still much room for improvement in the role played by universities in international negotiations and decision making on climate change to date few scientific meetings have provided multidisciplinary perspectives on climate change in which researchers across the natural and social sciences could come together to exchange research findings and discuss methods relating to climate change mitigation and adaptation studies as a result the published literature has also lacked a broad perspective this book fills that gap and is of interest to all researchers and policy makers concerned with global climate change regardless of their area of expertise

Evidence Taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Matter of Proposed Advances in Freight Rates by Carriers 1911 this book presents select papers from the international conference on energy material sciences and mechanical engineering emsme 2020 the book covers the three core areas of energy material sciences and mechanical engineering the topics covered include non conventional energy resources energy harvesting polymers composites 2d materials systems engineering materials engineering micro machining renewable energy industrial engineering and additive manufacturing this book will be useful to researchers and professionals working in the areas of mechanical and industrial engineering materials applications and energy technology

tanaw the road taken is the memoir of the distinguished filipino critic soledad s reyes this book is a record of reyes journey of more than seven decades where personal narrative intertwines with people and events with social and political movements with which the country sought to negotiate the treacherous shoals in the postwar years the account carries a fair amount of biographical data as lodged in the critics memory in the absence of diaries from her childhood into her college years but as the context becomes wider and more complex the narrative takes on a more analytical frame as she tries to make sense of disparate experiences whirling about her in the tumult of the

1970s and beyond and in the startling changes in the political landscape local and global that now grip the filipino nation this account according to the author is a story of an individual constructing a narrative that seeks to impose order upon chaos by retrieving aspects of the past and weaving a series of recalcitrant experiences into a coherent whole published in association with de la salle university publishing house

The 30th SIAR International Congress of Automotive and Transport Engineering 1844 this book reports on the proceeding of the 5th international conference on intelligent interactive systems and applications iisa 2020 held in shanghai china on september 25 27 2020 the iisa proceedings with the latest scientific findings and methods for solving intriguing problems are a reference for state of the art works on intelligent and interactive systems this book covers nine interesting and current topics on different systems orientations including analytical systems database management systems electronics systems energy systems intelligent systems network systems optimization systems and pattern recognition systems and applications the chapters included in this book cover significant recent developments in the field both in terms of theoretical foundations and their practical application an important characteristic of the works included here is the novelty of the solution approaches to the most interesting applications of intelligent and interactive systems
