recent experience in handling troubled banks was limited the national bank of georgia nbg is the lead authority responsible for managing problem banks as it can appoint a temporary administrator declare a bank as insolvent and bankrupt and commence a liquidation procedure in the 1990s market entry was not subject to significant restrictions and the number of banks operating in georgia reached a peak of 229 in 1994 since then the authorities have commenced a significant number of liquidation procedures and the last cases based on insolvency grounds have been closed in 2009 therefore the legal framework for bank resolution and liquidation has not been applied to a significant extent in recent times the framework for emergency liquidity assistance ela has been improved but enhancement is needed to protect the nbg against financial risk the nbg is explicitly authorized to provide ela to commercial banks that are considered to be viable and a 2012 nbg decree sets out certain procedural rules governing the disbursement of the ela however when financial stability is endangered rules on collateral interest rate and duration of the facility can be relaxed this special carve out can expose the nbg to financial risks the existence of a systemic threat rather calls for a role to be played by the government moreover provisions on collateral interest rate and duration should be updated to better take into account the specificities of ela and accountability mechanisms should be enhanced the bank resolution and liquidation regime presents important shortcomings the nbg can take control of a problem bank by appointing a temporary administrator which can in theory arrange for certain resolution transactions the bank liquidation framework is prescribed in more detail given the significant experience gained by the nbg in the past however the bank resolution framework lacks a number of important features and several amendments are needed to update it in line with emerging international best practices with a view to enabling the authorities to implement a speedy and cost effective resolution process

new standards every few years for quite some time and teachers are adaptable as can be seen in this book we are writing this book to demonstrate how teachers use research based strategies to meet common core standards while still focusing on students our goal is to help teachers visualize students in action as other teachers describe the implementation of research based strategies in their own classrooms show student work samples and provide reflections of student success in achieving the standards many common core standards books focus on the standards but our approach focuses on strategies that engage the students in the classroom showing how different teachers at varying grade levels have used the strategies to meet the standards with this focus we believe that teachers gain a new and positive perspective on approaching the new standards and see the flexibility of strategies for meeting standards across subject areas we have examined research on the strategies with the purpose of giving teachers a brief description of why these strategies work before giving actual examples from classrooms we also work closely with teachers in the public schools and have our finger on the pulse of what is happening in the public schools one of the current stressors being unpacking the common core standards this book actually focuses on practice we begin by laying out a rationale in our first chapter the core values of education then each chapter focuses on a strategy including 1 a brief description about the research supporting each strategy and 2 several examples from different grade levels which include a description of how the strategy was used student work samples and a reflection on the use of the strategy the research descriptions are fairly short because while we believe professional educators aka teachers in this case should know the research that supports practice we know they are not typically interested in long diatribes about the research
