the public will be given the right to recall their local mp if they are found to have engaged in serious wrongdoing under proposals announced in recall of mps draft bill isbn 9780101824125 cm 8241 published today the proposals fulfil a commitment made in the programme for government as part of the political reform agenda in the draft bill the government is proposing to introduce a power of recall allowing voters to force a by election having had a petition signed by 10 of his or her constituents at the last general election the manifestos of all three of the main parties included a commitment to establish a recall mechanism the draft bill is being published for pre legislative scrutiny and sets out two triggers for a recall petition firstly where an mp is convicted in the uk of an offence and receives a custodial sentence of 12 months or less and secondly where the house of commons resolves through a vote by mps that a recall petition should be opened the first trigger will close a gap in the existing legislation whereby mps are only disqualified if they receive a custodial sentence of more than 12 months the second trigger is an additional disciplinary power for the house of commons which for the first time allows constituents to have their say in deciding whether their mp should stay in office the petition will be administered by the local returning officer and will be open for a period of 8 weeks if 10 of eligible constituents sign the petition the mp s seat will be vacated and a by election will be held
