for some reason whenever my oldest granddaughter sleeps over i regularly read to her before bedtime i realized that no matter how awesome the stories were that i read to her she would constantly ask me to make one up for her i always start out with something short and she would say then what before we knew it i would come up with some pretty good stories for her the name stories on the fly came about because i had to make one up on the spot all the time gianna the lost princess is one of eight stories it is about a little baby girl that got lost during a plane crash

Teach Me to Fly, Skyfighter! 1983-01-01

this is my story the story of a pilot who flew airplanes for some thirty seven years ten years in the united states air force primarily in jet fighters and then twenty seven years flying commercial jet airliners i was inspired to write this story after reading the autobiography a few years ago of gen chuck yeager he being the world renowned test pilot world war ii fighter ace and first man to break the sound barrier in the bell x 1 my story is the story of an average pilot an average guy who survived several close calls had many interesting experiences along the way and often wondered am i still here because i was especially good or because i was especially lucky i think the answer is definitely a combination of the two just as yeager says or implies in his book with him it may have been a larger contribution of skill but as he said the secret of my success is that i always managed to live to fly another day i have to echo that comment while flying around the country with american airlines during hours of complete boredom as we say we pilots often traded our war stories of our flying and other experiences i often thought that i had many tales that were similar to some of yeagers and that i should put my experiences down on paper even if it would only be my family who might read it so this then is my story my life primarily as it revolved around my aviating experiences over some thirty seven years from the viewpoint of a pilot who has no particular claim to fame but who has survived to fly another day one of the best descriptions of a flying career says you start out with a big bag of luck and an empty bag of experience you want to fill the bag of experience before you empty the bag of luck i guess i have done that

Flying Home and Other Stories 1996 this book is about a shy boy who learned discipline from strict parents and seven years of parochial school my ten years in a band taught marching a graduate mechanical engineer who loved to fly control line model airplanes was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant and found the air force a piece of cake the air force taught me to fly although i had little desire to do so and pushed me to be an extremely aggressive pilot skill knowledge and training allowed me to advance through the highest performance jet aircraft during the time period of 1955 through 1984 jet aircraft flown were the t 33a f86f sabre f100 series a d f super sabre f105 b d thunderchief and the f110 f4d phantom my stories progress from primary flight school through all training and missions in the above aircraft as pilot test pilot instructor and air to air fighter pilot few understand the training and life of an air force pilot so the drivel shows a portion of life with these interesting actual flying stories a most enjoyable read
