Cracking the GRE with 4 Practice Tests, 2015 Edition 2023-06-15 we evaluate people all the time for a wide variety of activities we blame them for miscalculations uninspired art and committing crimes we praise them for detailed brushwork a superb pass and their acts of kindness we accomplish things from solving crosswords to mastering guitar solos we bungle our endeavors whether this is letting a friend down or burning dinner sometimes these deeds are morally significant but many times they are not simply responsible defends the radical proposal that the blameworthy artist is responsible in just the same way that the blameworthy thief is we can be responsible for all kinds of different activities from lip synching to long division from murders to meringues but the relation involved what author matt king calls the basic responsibility relation is the same in every case we are responsible for the things we do first then blameworthy or praiseworthy for having done them in light of whether they re good or bad according to a variety of standards why is this a radical proposal firstly because so much of the contemporary literature on moral responsibility has moralized its nature according to most accounts moral responsibility is either a special species of responsibility or else depends on moralized capacities in contrast king argues that we get a more complete and unifying picture of responsible agency from a more general theory of responsibility secondly the proposal is radical due to its drastic simplicity king foregoes many of the complications that feature in other accounts of responsibility arguing that we can make do with less demanding theoretical elements
