according to president bush the american people are safer as a result of invading iraq true saddam hussein has been removed from power but al qaeda the group that planned and carried out the attacks on september 11 remains at large meanwhile the white house has conceded that saddam hussein had nothing to do with the attacks charles peña argues that the war in iraq is but one misstep in the bush administration s global war on terror terrorism is simply a tactic however not an enemy trying to eradicate it is a quixotic quest that does not focus on those responsible for 9 11 instead the national security strategy should consist of three central elements establishing homeland security against further attacks dismantling the al qaeda terrorist network and enacting a foreign policy that does not attract new al qaeda terrorists this approach requires restructuring u s forces and ending cold war era commitments that distract from the current pressing threat it also requires ameliorating the negative consequences of an interventionist u s foreign policy which creates incentives and opportunities for terrorists to target the united states if we misdiagnose al qaeda s motivations or focus military efforts on the wrong targets then we run the risk that the war against the al qaeda terrorist threat and the radical islamic ideology it represents will become a broader war against the islamic world that could last generations and cost countless lives with a foreword by michael scheuer the bestselling author of imperial hubris the terrorist attacks on september 11 2001 were used by the bush administration to usher in a war without borders a war against many enemies in many different parts of the world a war without end this is america's war on terror yet this war on terror is in reality an imperialist war that seeks to make the world secure for global economic and strategic interests of the united states this war seeks to reorder the world through imperialist expansion the military occupation of iraq in march 2003 signals only a stage in this ongoing war it signals also the application of the new doctrines that the bush administration has championed ninan koshy makes a meticulous scrutiny of official documents and statements and shows how the military might of the us is actually used to buttress globalization that is the sway of multinational capital he also demonstrates how military occupation is intrinsic to the expansion of the american empire koshy makes the point that the main theatre of the war on terror is asia from west to north east and includes central south and south east asia he also puts forward a sharp critique of the policy followed by new delhi which involves the calculated dismantling of the entire rationale of non alignment and the edifice of an independent foreign policy as well as the subjugation of india's national interests to us war plans what we are witnessing today is the demise of the world order that emerged after the second world war a new world order is taking its place this lucidly argued book explains the architecture and nature of this new world order
