god s little soldier from the backstreets of bombay to the hallowed halls of cambridge from the mountains of afghanistan to a monastery in california the story of zia khan is an extraordinary rollercoaster ride a compelling cliffhanger of a spiritual quest about a good man gone bad and the brutalization of his soul growing up in a well to do cultured muslim family in bombay zia a gifted young mathematician is torn between the unquestioning certainties of his aunt s faith and the tolerant easy going views of his parents at cambridge university his beliefs crystallize into a fervent orthodoxy which ultimately leads him to a terrorist training camp in afghanistan the burden of endemic violence and killings however takes its toll on zia tormented by his need for forgiveness he is then drawn reluctantly to christ but peace continues to elude him and zia is once again driven to seek out causes to defend and fight for whatever be the sacrifices involved posited against zia is his brother amanat a writer whose life is severely constrained by sickness even as his mind is liberated by doubt theirs is a relationship that is as much a blood bond as it is an opaque wall of incomprehension weaving together the narratives of the extremist and the liberal god s little soldier underscores the incoherent ambiguities of good and evil and the tragic conflicts that have riven people and nations since the 9 11 attacks terror has established its permeating hold on society s psyche creative writing a popular and visible cultural witness to the strain has taken up this set of texts it is a set of standards evaluative procedures and values belonging to a canon confers a guarantee of literary greatness a canon is formed by a particular group to channelize cultural hegemony over others or can be constructed by a governed group to bring about cultural symmetry the rise of diverse literatures in english in different parts of the world after the colonial rule of england was the consequence of an urge to articulate a cultural equilibrium or an urge to strike back the process of canon formation is also a focused and bigoted act and is always carried out to accomplish certain self centred objectives it is commonly accepted that canon formation is executed to accomplish or naturalize certain ideological functions in the sphere of indian english literature indian english fiction after the end of the 1980s has emerged as a new canon this book looks into the process of literary canon formation in indian universities and examines such fiction as an alternative literary canon and as an anti imperialistic response to the british literary canon the book ascertains the anti imperialistic design involved in forming the canon of post 1980 indian english fiction examines the gradual emerging trends in such fiction and discerns the role of language culture and native ethos in the formation of a canon it also differentiates post 1980s indian english fiction from british fiction bhasa fiction and even from pre 1980s indian english fiction popular fiction can be more than feel good diversion stories which are intended to entertain are uniquely suited to affect their recipients feelings or moods and tend to leave a more sustained impression than lectures or lists of facts it is hardly surprising therefore that story telling keeps on thriving in the 21st century with ever new media providing ever new space for narratives in will spook you for real huber examines a wide range of strategies used in fiction to trigger a specific emotion in the readers anxiety regarding the social constructs they live in and their specific positions within these constructs can we trust our neighbours can we rely on our governments what do big corporations have in mind and what happens if i cannot conform to the role which has been assigned to me india a land of a billion people a nation for a billion reasons india continues to mesmerise and surprise the rest of the world as much as she enchants and bewilders her own people an ancient civilisation and a young nation at once modern india is a thriving democracy an economic powerhouse an increasingly assertive global political player and a world leader in science and technology at the same time she remains rooted in tradition her art culture and literature continue to enrich her mind body and soul as also of the rest of humanity this superbly crafted book adorned with rich and spontaneous photographs unravels the beauty and enigma of india and her people in an unusually simple and uncomplicated manner thereby providing an overview of what constitutes this great nation this book offers new ways of constellating the literary and cinematic delineations of indian and pakistani muslim diasporic and migrant trajectories narrated in the two decades after the 9 11 attacks focusing on four pakistani english novels and four indian hindi films it examines the aesthetic complexities of staging the historical nexus of global conflicts and unravels the multiple layers of discourses underlying the notions of diaspora citizenship nation and home it scrutinises the flirtatious nature of transnational desires and their role in building glocal safety valves for inclusion and archiving a planetary vision of trauma it also provides a fresh perspective on the role of pakistani english novels and mainstream hindi films in tracing the multiple origins and shifts in national xenophobic practices and negotiating multiple modalities of political and cultural belonging it discusses various books and films including the reluctant fundamentalist burnt shadows my name is khan new york exit west home fire airlift and tiger zinda hai in light of the twentieth anniversary of 9 11 attacks current debates on terror war paranoid national imaginaries and the suspicion towards migratory movements of refugees this book makes a significant contribution to the interdisciplinary debates on border controls and human precarity a crucial work in transnational and diaspora criticism it will be of great interest to researchers of literature and culture studies media studies politics film studies and south asian studies the indian english novel of the new humans don t see death as part of life we want to play god want to find a new direction in the eternal circle of life or stop it altogether after publishing cluster one of the best science fiction novels published from a hungarian author kóki terminal bookshop in stephen paul thomas s new short story collection we can look deeply into the problem that the whole of humankind wants to solve how can we live longer in eleven short stories we follow the characters through different paths to prolong their own lives or the lives of others for some of them the soul is a separate entity a thing that can live without the body for others this is impossible they still live and die as before in sickness and in old age some in sacrifice for others in the big race in the fight for long life we can see the picture of a big cataclysm the collective death but at its deepest level this book is not about death the stories set in the same colonial universe as cluster about life they are a quest for answers about incurable sickness about how to replace the body in a world where the soul is immortal can humankind alone kill death do we need to prolong life sometimes even to a pointless meaningless degree why would we do that why would we want to live longer than the stars even they stop shining one day unlike other stories written for children in english and which invariably have a western
