The Sacrifice 2017-05-02 the sacrifice is a haunting depiction of one family and its often tragic attempts to come to terms with a new life in a new country it is a moving almost biblical story of a father possessed by his hope for his only son of a son who rebels against his father s ideals yet sacrifices himself to preserve what his father most prizes and of a grandson who must reconcile the flaws in his inheritance

Writing the Modern Family 2021-01-29 although a large body of work has emerged which addresses neoliberal representations of the family in other cultural forms such as parenting advice programmes little has been written specifically on the family and contemporary literature this book examines the growing body of autobiographical and fictional writing on family and parenting issues in anglo american culture from the late 1990s to the present day the book looks closely at six distinct genres which have arisen during this time frame the misery memoir the mum s lit popular novel the maternal confessional dads lit the dysfunctional domestic novel and the family noir writing the modern family will examine the way these burgeoning areas of british and american writing respond to a neoliberal public discourse in which a parenting deficit rather than economic and structural disadvantage is responsible for increasing inequality in child welfare and achievement in evaluating these forms and their relationship to neoliberal culture the book will also consider the complex interrelationship between these genres

Penguin Modern Classics in Transit 2014-08-19 in the stories that make up in transit internationally acclaimed writer mavis gallant describes with elegant and scrupulous precision and with a discerning eye for telling detail the quirks of human nature and the limits of human compassion a host of remarkably drawn characters are surveyed with a cool wit and sophisticated intelligence as they struggle to transcend the imprisonment of their provisional lives sometimes direct sometimes tantalizingly oblique mavis gallant s finely textured writing demonstrates once again that she is a master of contemporary prose

Modern American Counter Writing 2010-01-21 the dissident voice in us culture might almost be said to have been born with the territory its span runs from roger williams to thoreau anne bradstreet to gertrude stein ambrose bierce to the new journalism the beats to the recent bad subjects cyber crowd this new study analyses three recent literary tranches in the tradition a re envisioning of the whole beat web or circuit a consortium of postwar outrider voices hunter thompson to frank chin joan didion to kathy acker and a latest purview of what all too casually has been designated ethnic writing the aim is to set up and explore these different counter seams of modern american writing those which sit outside or at least awkwardly within agreed literary canons

Never Cry Wolf 2017-05-02 we have doomed the wolf not for what it is but for what we deliberately and mistakenly perceive it to be the mythologized epitome of a savage ruthless killer which is in reality no more than the reflected image of ourself from the preface never cry wolf is a brilliant narrative on the myth and magic of wild wolves and man s true place among the creatures of nature hordes of bloodthirsty wolves are slaughtering the arctic caribou and the government s wildlife service assigns naturalist farley mowat to investigate mowat is dropped alone onto the frozen tundra where he begins his mission to live among the howling wolf packs and study their ways contact with his quarry comes quickly and mowat discovers not a den of marauding killers but a courageous family of skillful providers and devoted protectors of their young as mowat comes closer to the wolf world he comes to fear with them the onslaught of bounty hunters and government exterminators out to erase the noble wolf community from the arctic

Exile and Expatriation in Modern American and Palestinian Writing 2018-05-23 this book examines the distinction between literary expatriation and exile through a contrapuntal reading of modern palestinian and american writing it argues that exile in the palestinian case especially is a political catastrophe it is banishment by a colonial power it suggests that unlike expatriation a choice of a foreign land over one s own exile is a political rather than an artistic concept and is forced rather than voluntary while exile can be emancipatory it is always an unwelcome loss in addition to its historical dimension exile also entails a different perception of return to expatriation this book frames expatriates as quintessentially american particularly intellectuals and artists seeking a space of creativity and social dissidence in the experience of living away from home at the heart of both literary discourses however is a preoccupation with home belonging identity language mobility and homecoming
