Brief History of Ancient Greece 4th

Edition

this book focuses on the turbulent period of greek history from 1941 to 1949 which was full of fights and political upsets its beginning includes in brief the defense of greece against italy and germany it follows the triple occupation with many atrocities of occupational forces because of the greek national resistance many citizens mainly in athens died because of famine the lack of food in greece was due to the british navy block of supplies to incommode the germans also the occupational forces retained a great amount of agricultural production for their needs there were many resistance groups in greece but the biggest one was the left eam and its military counterpart elas the leaders of eam elas were communists siantos tzimas velouchiotis but there were many non left guerrillas among them because initially the leadership from communists was not apparent we can distinct three successive phases of a bloody civil war the first phase began in the middle of 1943 and lasted till the liberation in october 1944 elas tried to exterminate all the other resistance groups in western greece edes under n zervas in macedonia pao in midland ekka of d psaros in eastern macedonia and thrace eoea group of a fosterides in peloponnese ngo anticommunists and in athens x organization of g grivas in the same period the security battalions were organized by pm john rallis to fight against the elas in kilkis in central macedonia and in meligalas in peloponnese after fights with elas 2 4 thousand non communists guerrillas and civilians were executed despite being captives the second phase includes the fights of ELAS from december of 1944 till early january 1945 in athens decembriana against the g papandreou government british troops participated as well against ELAS which was finally defeated and signed an agreement at the Varkiza suburb the third phase was the long lasting civil war 1946 1949 when the communist s guerrillas self named as democratic army fought against the national army of the greek state the guerrillas recruited male and female adults but even young children 15 16 years old and after short term training send them to battle also more than 28 000 kidnapped children 4 15 years old were transferred to countries of eastern europe some children came from guerrillas families but most of the parents were against childrens separation from them queen frederica was actively involved in the organization of 53 child camps where children of villagers were housed educated and lived in a safe environment avoiding the danger of kidnapping from the guerrillas from may of 1947 the greek state organized a special military camp on the island of Makronisos where leftist unarmed soldiers lived and the circumstances were very depressing for them the communists were defeated at the end of August 1949 the guerrillas who survived went to eastern European countries and in the USSR mainly to Taskendi the years 1941-1949 left indelible traces of blood and lamentation in almost every Greek family while the consequences were overall tragic many dead and injured people lots of burned villages and infrastructure irreversibly damaged during the occupation of Greece the Germans sent 69,151 Jews to death camps in Germany and Poland mainly to Auschwitz and only a few people of them came back alive during the occupation and the subsequent 4 years a left organization named OPLA murdered selected persons anticommunists but also the Trotskyists I believe that the knowledge of our history is a key so as the succeeding generations avoid the mistakes of their ancestors and prevent our nation's disunity in the future my main aim is to offer to Greeks who live abroad especially the second or third generation an opportunity to learn what happened in that critical period of greek history pou
