tunisia s gdp totalled td84 3bn 36 2bn in 2015 expanding at a rate of 0 8 down from growth of 2 3 the year before the fall was due to a variety of external factors including two terrorist incidents that negatively affected the tourism sector in particular and shook business confidence more generally however growth picked up somewhat in 2016 standing at 1 1 4 and 1 3 in the first second and third quarters of the year respectively and is expected to maintain this upward trend in 2017 supported by greater export competitiveness moves to bolster the economy through reforms such as the new investment law and plans to tackle wider structural issues are likely to help to raise growth to higher levels than those witnessed in recent years as should the improvement in security since the 2015 attacks though the extent of this will depend in part on whether or not the economy of the country s main export destination and tourism source market the eurozone can emerge from its own recent slowdown

rachel king offers us the stories of families who understand the powerful reality that taking another life in the name of justice only perpetuates the tragedy i encourage others to read these stories to better understand their journey from despair and anger to some level of peace and even forgiveness sister helen prejean csj author of dead man walking could you forgive the murderer of your husband your mother your son families of murder victims are often ardent and very public supporters of the death penalty but the people whose stories appear in this book have chosen instead to forgive their loved ones murderers and many have developed personal relationships with the killers and have even worked to save their lives they have formed a nationwide group murder victims families for reconciliation mvfr to oppose the death penalty mvfr members are often treated as either saints or lunatics but the truth is that they are neither they are ordinary people who have responded to an extraordinary and devastating tragedy with courage and faith choosing reconciliation over retribution healing over hatred believing that the death penalty is a form of social violence that only repeats and perpetuates the violence that claimed their loved ones lives they hold out the hope of redemption even for those who have committed the most hideous crimes weaving third person narrative with wrenching first hand accounts king presents the stories of ten mvfr members each is a heartrending tale of grief soul searching and of the challenge to choose forgiveness instead of revenge these stories which king sets in the context of the national discussion over the death penalty debate and restorative versus retributive justice will appeal not only to those who oppose the death penalty but also to those who strive to understand how people can forgive the seemingly unforgivable rachel king is a legislative counsel for the american civil liberties union s washington national office where she lobbies on crime policy she is currently working on a book about the families of death row inmates
