although employers are required to pay compensation for employee inventions under the laws in many countries existing legal literature has never critically examined whether such compensation actually gives employee inventors an incentive to invent as the legislature intends this book addresses the issue through reference to recent large scale surveys on the motivation of employee inventors in europe the united states and japan and studies in social psychology and econometrics arguing that the compensation is unlikely to boost the motivation productivity and creativity of employee inventors and thereby encourage the creation of inventions it also discusses the ownership of inventions made by university researchers giving due consideration to the need to ensure open science and their academic freedom challenging popular assumptions this book provides a solution to a critical issue by arguing that compensation for employee inventions should not be made mandatory regardless of jurisdiction because there is no legitimate reason to require employers to pay it this means that patent law does not need to give employee inventors an incentive to invent separately from the incentive to innovate which is already given to employers a profile in socio technical terms of ways that innovation is manifested in american european and asian knowledge based innovation networks professional this book emphasizes the need for promoting innovation on the african continent it identifies the roadblocks for entrepreneurs and discusses ways for developing an ecosystem for innovators to pave a way through the barriers and create ground breaking products and new technologies which meet consumers needs in africa in order to stimulate innovation in african countries there is the need for a more appropriate approach for innovation to occur in a context of international openness to knowledge this book adopts a practical approach demonstrating how innovation is an important driver of economic growth and competitiveness it shows that innovation in africa should be driven by local people in response to local problems and that open technology and knowledge sharing are vital to this project it further explores key enablers such as the discovery of innovative talent overcoming barriers building strategic partnerships and promoting innovation across the continent the book places emphasis on the creation of an innovation ecosystem as a value creating tool by stakeholders for nation building and growth in africa this book will be of interest to researchers students international agencies governments businesses and individuals interested in the field of innovation and its potentials it will also be relevant to investors manufacturers and other stakeholders involved in the economic development of africa the logic of innovation examines not merely the supposed problem of the efficacy and relevance of intellectual property and the nature of innovation and creativity in a digital environment but also the very circumstances of that inquiry itself social life has itself become a sphere of production but how might that be understood within the cultural and structural transformation of creativity innovation and property through a highly original interlocutory and therapeutic approach to the issues in play the author addresses the concepts of innovation and the digital by means of an investigation through literature and the imagination of new scenarios for language business and legal reform the book undertakes a complex inquiry into innovation and property through the wonder of alice s journeys in wonderland and through the looking glass the author presents a new theory of familiar production to account for the kinship that has emerged in both informal and commercial modes of innovation and foregrounds the value of use as crucial to the articulation of intellectual property within contemporary models of production and commercialization in the digital models of human nature and causality observational learning enactivelearning social diffusion and innovation predictive knowledge and forethought incentive motivators vicarious motivators self regulatory mechanisms self efficacy cognitive regulators the reality of children working and living on the streets has posed a great challenge in kenya scholars have made efforts to explain why it occurs and what might be done about the situation through various studies and research projects however research with these children has so far been centered mainly on the causal factors and the nature and impact of life on the streets through bibliographic details this book offers an analysis of present interventions through qualitative social research the author focuses on the dynamics in the educational rehabilitation of children working and living on the streets of kenya john kabutha mugogo studied music education at kenyatta university in kenya and education for children with special needs at the university of hannover where he was awarded a doctorate he has written about children child labor and violation of children s rights innovation is seen as the main motor of business competitiveness this study of large and small firms in 11 industrialized regions of western and eastern europe identifies reasons for europe s innovation gap and suggests steps that should be taken by governance bodies to reduce it an international review practical scriptural and contemporary text and task is a series of essays on scripture and mission it aims to show the significance of reading the biblical text appropriately and with faithful engagement for our theology and missiology a team of biblical scholars suggests ways forward in areas such as the implicit missional narrative of david and goliath the story of solomon and his temple building the genre of lament the explicit gracious message of the prophet isaiah paul s understanding of divine call and gospel and the place of mission as a hermeneutic for reading the bible theological chapters engage the issues of the trinity and the unevangelized the missional dimensions of barth s view of election the gospel s loss of plausibility in the modern west the place of preaching in mission and the idea of belonging to a church community before one believes the gospel drawing together scholars from the fields of biblical studies theology sociology and homiletics text and task relates critically engaged textual reading to contemporary ongoing christian life thought and mission essentials of health policy and law fifth edition provides students of public health medicine nursing public policy and health administration with an introduction to a broad range of seminal issues in u s health policy and law analytic frameworks for studying these complex issues and an understanding of the ways in which health policies and laws are formulated implemented and applied thoroughly revised the fifth edition explores the key health policy and legal changes brought about by the biden administration and the presently democrat controlled congress it also addresses the covid 19 pandemic and its many devastating and intertwined health economic and social consequences this book focuses on the third section of one of the most important documents from the qumran library the epilogue of 4qmmt although the primary focus is on the epilogue the results of this investigation shed light on 4qmmt as a whole scotland uk is a strong innovator ranking among the top 20 of economies among european regions with strengths in university firm collaborations and skills for innovation with close to two thirds of all growth in productivity from 2010 to 2018 coming from better use of resources in remote rural areas rural areas are critical to economic prosperity frank thoms writes with passion to invite principals and teachers to make changes that will allow all students to succeed in this book he urges them to reconsider traditional practices in light of today s media driven culture and digitally wired students exciting classrooms is sensitive to the challenges schools face and is relentless in offering strategies to meet these challenges this text brings together studies in various aspects of the theory of the capitalist economy it focuses on major themes of the marxist tradition that postulate the existence and importance of social relations and structures underlying the esoteric realm of economic categories prices profits wages etc the author takes a reappraising critical look at the concepts of the deep structure value exploitation immanent crisis using the analytical tools of modern economics to improve those concepts the book is divided into four parts part 1 explores the essential nature of capitalism re examining problems in the theory of value and exploitation part 2 tackles the issue of capitalism specific paths of growth and technical change putting forward a rigorous theory of biased technical change and non steady state growth part 3 examines the cyclical character of capitalist growth and the theory of crises

finally part 4 places capitalism in the wider framework of modes of production considering the theory of precapitalist formations and aspects of the theory and practical experience of socialism the guiding theme is the combination or confrontation of rigorous quantitative analytical techniques with equally demanding qualitative and political economic conceptualization the book's premise is that this interface is essential to a progressive yet distinctively marxist social theory this study is a contribution to the debate begun just after the october revolution concerning the relationship between marx's project and soviet society it focuses however only on the political aspects of the matter to what extent was early soviet authoritarianism the necessary outcome of marx's works since lenin's practice and theory largely determined and justified the early political character of the soviet state we may ask whether lenin was implementing marx's project or a project of his own design lenin influenced by debates within social democracy and by the experience of the russian revolutionary tradition used a one-sided interpretation of marx's work to build and defend a transition which was fundamentally authoritarian marx was not causally responsible for the theoretical foundation of soviet authoritarianism wall street journal bestseller 2022 national indie excellence awards finalist business general 2022 axiom business book award gold medalist leadership critically important reading as our economy struggles to recover the pandemic's deleterious economic impact that is currently compounded by supply chain issues and the beginnings of an inflationary spiral the midwest book review provides concrete steps leaders and employees can take to thrive in today's marketplace where taking a stand on something important to your customers can become a competitive differentiator forbes discover an urgent prescription for a new business paradigm one that better serves humanity and the planet the global coronavirus pandemic has thrown into stark relief how business as usual is no longer serving us the economic business and environmental models of the past do not reflect our current realities and for our economy for us to survive we need nothing less than a seismic shift in the way we do business enter simon mainwaring new york times bestselling author and founder and ceo of we first a decade ago he showed how business leaders and consumers could use social media to build a better world in we first now after decades of research and field experience at the vanguard of the world's most successful brand revolutions he provides in lead with we a blueprint for doing business better in today's challenged world by leading with we putting the collective above the individual holding the sum above the parts and emphasizing the importance of the role that everyone plays you can not only help solve the escalating challenges of today but also unlock extraordinary growth for your business and abundance on our planet timely and compelling this book's message is simple the future of profit is people's purpose aligned lead with we not only examines why we must all conduct business differently in order to grow in today's market but provides the how concrete steps any reader wherever they find themselves in the business hierarchy can take toward success approaches hasidism as an important stage in jewish mysticism rather than as a mere reaction to or result of historical and social forces these essays give an account of why and how the united states grew rich in the nineteenth century how the utopian tradition offers answers to today's environmental crises in the face of earth's environmental breakdown it is clear that technological innovation alone won't save our planet a more radical approach is required one that involves profound changes in individual and collective behavior utopianism for a dying planet examines the ways the expansive history of utopian thought from its origins in ancient sparta and ideas of the golden age through to today's thinkers can offer moral and imaginative guidance in the face of catastrophe the utopian tradition which has been critical of conspicuous consumption and luxurious indulgence might light a path to a society that emphasizes equality sociability and sustainability gregory claeys unfolds his argument through a wide ranging consideration of utopian literature social theory and intentional communities he defends a realist definition of utopia focusing on ideas of sociability and belonging as central to utopian narratives he surveys the development of these themes during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries before examining twentieth and twenty first century debates about alternatives to consumerism claeys contends that the current global warming limit of 1.5c 2.7f will result in cataclysm if there is no further reduction in the cap in response he offers a radical green new deal program which combines ideas from the theory of sociability with proposals to withdraw from fossil fuels and cease reliance on unsustainable commodities an urgent and comprehensive search for antidotes to our planet's destruction utopianism for a dying planet asks for a revival of utopian ideas not as an escape from reality but as a powerful means of changing it this study explores the interplay between money status politics and art collecting in the public and private lives of members of the wealthy trading classes in brighton during the period 1840-1914 chapters focus on the collecting practices of five rich and upwardly mobile victorians william coningham 1815-84 henry hill 1813-82 henry willett 1823-1905 and harriet trist 1816-96 and her husband john hamilton trist 1812-91 the book examines the relationship between the wealth of these would-be members of the brighton bourgeoisie and the social and political meanings of their art collections paid for out of fortunes made from sugar tailoring beer and wine it explores their luxury lifestyles and civic activities including the making of brighton museum and art gallery which reflected a paradoxical mix of patrician and liberal views of aristocratic aspiration and radical rhetoric it also highlights the centrality of the london art world to their collecting facilitated by the opening of the london to brighton railway line in 1841 the book will be of interest to scholars working in art history museum studies and british history cio survival guide is a leadership manual for the emerging role of the
