medicine is a unique guide to the optimum management of older patients in 1794 and 1799 superintendent of convicts nicholas devine was granted 210 acres on the edge of the current cbd of sydney after the demise of governor bligh to whom he was closely allied devine reluctantly retired to his estate where as an old man living alone he was constantly beaten and robbed an irish convict named bernard rochford befriended the old man in 1825 and upon his death in 1830 forged a will and seized control of the estate and proceeded to subdivide it and sell it off many of the purchasers and others including the governor knew rochford was in no position to sell the land as even if the will he had was authentic he was a nonetheless a convict and therefore was prohibited from holding property let alone profit from its sale rochford sold much of the land in exchange for grog and was continually in court over a variety of issues as devious as rochford was he proved no match for his wife whose deceit landed him in jail where he died in 1839 the 30 new landowners included judges mayors magistrates aldermen newspaper editors solicitors and other sydney luminaries they believed that with rochford s death all suspicions regarding their ownership of the land would also die but that was not to be in 1848 nicholas devine s heir john devine arrived to lay claim to the

as substance abuse stroke or disease today s medical techniques are improving the survival rate for people of all ages diagnosed with abi and current trends in rehabilitation are supporting these individuals returning to live attend school and work in their communities yet strategies on the best way of providing community participation vary among rehabilitation experts because many of survivors of abi do not and will not return to the status quo of their former lives it is important to examine what constitutes best and promising practices in this area this casebook is the world s first compilation of evidence informed programs that foster community participation for people of all ages with brain injury with this review we elicited and carefully examined existing programmatic efforts that combine emphasis on the individual the social and the service systems in a way that captures community participation as a complex process of interactive change in the person environment relationship programs that do not divorce abi survivors from their contexts and where participation efforts facilitate positive change in the social and political context we considered community based programs to be programs where individuals and families actively participate in their own therapy rehabilitation and take responsibility for their own health or that of a family community member each case study chapter depicts a program chosen on its extraordinary merits to provide community participation to its clients the chapters are cowritten by the stakeholder and a researcher giving a complete perspective of how the program was established and continues to operate and provides evidence of excellence this concise introduction to evidence based social work is a student friendly overview of the issues and methods most frequently encountered while preparing for evidence based social work practice part i defines terms and critical issues introducing students to the language and
