Shaping the Prayers of the People after thirty years of study and reflection lutheran philosopher robert koons joined the catholic church in 2007 this book articulates his reasons for abandoning the church of his ancestors for the roman communion reasons that centered on a deep and systematic re thinking of the central issue of the reformation the lutheran doctrine of justification by faith alone koons draws on a broad knowledge of the scriptures the church fathers and the most prominent theologians of the lutheran movement from the time of the reformation until the present including luther melanchthon chemnitz and robert preus since jesus clearly intended for the church to remain visibly united the burden of proof on any theological innovation is heavy and koons demonstrates that the lutheran doctrine was innovative and he argues relying on the best new testament scholarship that the bible passages cited by the reformers do not support the innovative features of the lutheran doctrine koons seeks to eliminate widespread misunderstandings of the catholic doctrine of justification on the part of many protestants emphasizing the christocentric character of that teaching koons argues that in contrast the lutheran doctrine is inconsistent he also points out serious logical problems with the principle of sola scriptura mary the mother of jesus is one of the most powerful influential and complex of all religious figures the focus for women the inspiration of faith the subject of innumerable paintings sculptures pieces of music and churches mary is so entangled in our world that it is impossible to conceive of the history of western culture and religion without her miri rubin s mother of god is a major work of cultural imagination mary s role in the gospels is a relatively minor one and yet in the centuries during which christianity established itself she emerged as a powerful strange and ungovernable force endlessly remade and reimagined by wave after wave of devotees ultimately becoming a sort of god in ways that have always made some christians uneasy whether talking about the vast public festivals celebrating mary that sweep up entire communities or the intense private agony of individual devotion rubin s book is a triumph of sympathy and intelligence throughout christianity s journey from mysterious origins to global religion the mother of god has been a profound presence in countless lives mother of god is the story of that presence and a book that raises profound questions about the human experience koslofsky examines the human encounter with death in germany from the eve of the reformation to the rise of pietism the protestant reformation transformed the funeral more profoundly than any other ritual of the traditional church luther s doctrine of salvation by faith alone made the foundation of the traditional funeral intercession for the dead in purgatory obsolete by drawing on anthropological interpretations of death ritual this study explores the changing relationships between the body the soul the living and the dead in the daily life of early modern germany throughout history christians have prayed for the dead both for continual growth of the faithful and for their advancement from purgatory though not for the deliverance of the unsaved from hell this book defends all three kinds of prayer it challenges protestants who seldom pray for the dead to begin doing so and roman catholics and eastern orthodox who pray only for the christian dead to include the unsaved as well james gould addresses the biblical credentials of prayer for the dead and provides a historical overview of such prayers from ancient christianity to the current practice of the three main branches of the church he also discusses the logical assumptions prayer for the dead requires that prayer is effective that the dead are conscious and that the afterlife involves change and lays out a theological framework for such prayers prayer for the departed raises the most basic of theological questions matters that go to the center of god s purpose in creating spiritual beings and redeeming sinful humankind the argument while revisionary in some respects is orthodox ecumenical and integrative engaging a range of academic disciplines so as to be biblically accurate historically informed and philosophically reasoned
