Human rights are rights we have simply because we exist as human beings they are not granted by any state these universal rights are inherent to us all regardless of nationality sex national or ethnic origin color religion language or any other status

1 the universal declaration of human rights udhr is a milestone document in the history of human rights drafted by representatives with different legal and cultural backgrounds from all parts of the world

2 the european convention on human rights (eCHR) is a treaty that enshrines civil and political rights in Europe

3 the human rights act 1998 (HRA) is a piece of legislation that incorporates the rights set out in the eCHR into UK law

4 the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) is an international court that interprets the eCHR and hears cases brought by individuals who claim that their rights have been violated

5 the HRA allows individuals to bring cases to UK courts if they believe their rights under the eCHR have been violated

6 the HRA has been used to challenge a wide range of government actions, including the use of force in Northern Ireland, the treatment of prisoners, and the retention of the death penalty

7 the HRA has also been used to challenge the actions of private individuals and organizations, such as the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) and the Football Association (FA)

8 the HRA has been a key tool for human rights activists in the UK

9 the HRA has been a key tool for the ECtHR

10 the HRA has been a key tool for the ECtHR
