marvellous melbourne basking in the glow of the gold rushes he worked in south australia victoria and new south wales and left some of the most memorable images of urban and rural life in colonial australia a passionate defender of indigenous australians and of the environment gill in his art celebrated the emerging quintessential australian character this is the first major comprehensive book to be devoted to gill and presents a radical reassessment of one of the most important figures in australian colonial art and reproduces in some instances for the first time some of the most startling images from nineteenth century australian art there will be an exhibition of s t gill s work at the state library of victoria in july 2015 and at the national library of australia in june 2016 plus smaller shows in regional victorian galleries in association with the state library of victoria you ve read tales of lady s maids and cooks housekeepers and nannies but now it s time to hear from the other side of life as a servant from the lamp boy to the butler here are the fascinating storis from the men below stairs this treasure trove of memories collected together by rosina harrison bestselling author of the lady s maid includes the night the ill fated edward viii came to dinner the time charlie chaplin scandalised the servants with his familiar behaviour and the occasion when a hot potato dropped down a lady s décolletage at a veryexclusive supper party one of the most appealing as well as one of the easiest ways of bringing a breath of summer in to the home is to use dried and pressed flowers to make an almost endless variety of attractive arrangements and designs pot pourri made with colorful fragrant plants and carefully selected herbs and spices recreate evocative scents to remind us of nature s fragrance carol petelin author of the successful the creative guide to dried flowers has drawn on her wealth of experience to provide the ultimate guide to drying and using flowers plants and herbs in a myriad of creative ways first she describes plants that can be most successfully grown even by those with limited garden space and explains how to best harvest and dry them the next section covers the art of dried flower arranging there is advice on working with different combinations of color and form to create arrangements in containers bouquets posies garlands and swags she tells how to gather and press flowers and herbs and offers a variety of imaginative projects for them the final section is devoted to pot pourri the author includes recipes for deliciously fragrant mixtures and describes how pot pourri scented flowers and spices can be used to make many delightfully fragranced items there is a list of sources for herbs and essential oils lavishly illustrated throughout with simon mcbride s color photographs and decorated with some of edith holden s own drawings from the country diary of an edwardian lady and the nature notes of an edwardian lady the country diary book of flowers will inspire all those who wish to practice the art of dried flower arranging and to make unusual and attractive gifts for their homes and friends in november 1905 the peak of foxhunting season across the midlands of england and up and down the east coast of north america two towns in virginia saw the coming of illustrious and wealthy men there was to be a contest a great hound match between two packs of foxhounds one english and one american the english hounds carried on their great stout forearms and deep chests the monumental weight of centuries of foxhunting in england and were expected to make their hound dog ancestors proud of their new world conquest the american hounds were expected to show those stodgy old brits how it was done over here with spunk and intuition individuality drive and nerve this book chronicles this ostentatious match of britain versus america at the turn of the century active in forging their place in time in a manner that blurs the boundaries between historiography memory religion and myth a member of the chiot diaspora argenti makes use of unpublished correspondence from survivors of the massacres of 1822 and their descendants and reflects on oral family histories and silences in which the island represents an enigmatic but palpable absence as he explores the ways in which a body of memory and a cultural experience of temporality came to be dislocated and shared between two populations his return to chios marks an encounter in which the traditional roles of ethnographer and participant come to be dispersed and intertwined a tour through the new science of the omniverse its spiritual and physical dimensions and its incalculable a journey through an aegean island community s history of massacre occupation famine and financial meltdown and its effects on culture and memory drawing on research conducted on chios during the sovereign debt crisis that struck greece in 2010 nicolas argenti follows the lives of individuals who symbolize the transformations affecting this aegean island as witnesses to the crisis speak of their lives however their current anxieties and frustrations are expressed in terms of past crises that have shaped the dramatic history of chios including the german occupation in world war ii and the ensuing famine the exchange of populations between greece and turkey of 1922 23 and the massacres of 1822 that decimated the island at the outset of the greek war of independence the complex temporality that emerges in these accounts is ensconced in a cultural context of commemorative ritual ecstatic visions an annual rocket war and other embodied practices that contribute to forms of memory production that question the assumptions of the trauma discourse revealing the islanders of chios to be active in forging their place in time in a manner that blurs the boundaries between historiography memory religion and myth a member of the chiot diaspora argenti makes use of unpublished correspondence from survivors of the massacres of 1822 and their descendants and reflects on oral family histories and silences in which the island represents an enigmatic but palpable absence as he explores the ways in which a body of memory and a cultural experience of temporality came to be dislocated and shared between two populations his return to chios marks an encounter in which the traditional roles of ethnographer and participant come to be dispersed and intertwined natural environments and the human interactions that occur within are continuously changing and evolving this comprehensive volume explores how the impacts of climate change natural and man made disasters economic instability and other macro environmental factors can have profound implications for local and global economies fragile ecosystems and human cultures and livelihoods the authors examine the numerous ways in which changes in the natural environment impact tourism and how the tourism industry is responding and adapting to such changes in both developed and developing regions through the various case studies that examine human interaction within what are often fragile ecosystems this book makes it clear that while adaptation can be passive in nature it can and should be much more proactive with individuals and organizations seeking improved knowledge and learning such actions will contribute to greater resilience within the tourism industry whether in response to climate change and its subsequent impacts or an increasing scarcity of the natural resources upon which tourism relies this book was originally published as a special issue of the journal tourism geographies
