for social position and financial security we see how the pull of downward social mobility affected even the outwardly successful bourgeois family of henry james in new york while the drought stricken wheat fields of iowa and south dakota produced the most militant american realist hamlin garland for these writers realism offered to stabilize an uncertain world by capturing it with a new sharpness and accuracy it also revealed a new cast of social actors factory workers slaves farm laborers the disabled and the homeless all victims of an unregulated market combining economic history and literary analysis to powerful effect downwardly mobile shows how the fluctuating fortunes of the american middle class forced the emergence of a new kind of literature while posing difficult political choices about how the middle class might remedy its precarious condition canary fever is a collection of reviews about the most significant literatures of the twenty first century science fiction fantasy and horror the literatures clute argues should be recognized as the central modes of fantastika in our times the title refers to the canary in the coal mine who whiffs gas and dies to save miners reviewers of fantastika can find themselves in a similar position though words can only hurt us this book tells the hundred year history of three rivers california from the 1850s to the 1950s three rivers has always been a special place one of rolling wooded hills nestled close to the high sierra mountains those mountains feed the rivers that give the place its name it was an ideal place for the pioneers of this story to settle the book is divided into two basic parts the first tells the story of events and places what life was like for those hardy souls who homesteaded in these hills the second part relates stories and histories about individual people and their families when they came to three rivers when they arrived and how their lives and the lives of their families were impacted by living here did they thrive did they go elsewhere to search for their dream the author has endeavored to answer these questions book review i am a local history buff and long time member of the tulare county historical society when publications appear that pique my interest in tulare county history i usually acquire them the author and her family are well known and highly respected in the three rivers area ms britten s contribution to the area s history by recording the background and lives of its pioneers is well done evan long in this technothriller a japanese detective stumbles onto deployment of military robots with cutting edge technology i robot is a fast read the archimedes is a modern merchant steamship in tip top condition and in the summer of 1929 it has been picking up goods along the eastern seaboard of the united states before making a run to china a little overloaded perhaps the oddly assorted cargo includes piles of old newspapers and heaps of tobacco the ship departs for the panama canal from norfolk virginia on a beautiful autumn day before long the weather turns unexpectedly rough rougher in fact than even the most experienced members of the crew have ever encountered the archimedes it turns out has been swept up in the vortex of an immense hurricane and for the next four days it will be battered and mauled by wind and waves as it is driven wildly off course caught in an unremitting struggle for survival both the crew and the ship will be tested as never before based on detailed research into an actual event richard hughes s tale of high suspense on the high seas is an extraordinary story of men under pressure and the unexpected ways they prove their mettle or crack yet the originality art and greatness of in hazard stem from something else hughes s eerie fascination with the hurricane itself the inhuman force around which this wrenching tale of humanity at its limits revolves hughes channels the furies of sea and sky into a piece of writing that is both apocalyptic and analytic in hazard is an unforgettable defining work of modern adventure this volume brings together essays by specialists in different disciplines on the cultural expression of apocalypse in particular in anglophone science fiction of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries approaching these works from historical philosophical linguistic and literary perspectives the contributors examine the relationship between secular and spiritual apocalypse connecting the fiction and films to their historical moment not surprisingly war recurs throughout this material as a critical turning point fulfilment of prophecy or prelude to a new age in particular the essays explore the issue of whether modern apocalypse is seen as an ending or a beginning considered under its political ethnic and gendered aspects among the writers covered are h g wells olaf stapledon and such contemporary figures as michael moorcock j g ballard and storm
