educators and community based professionals are often required to work with children and families from a range of diverse backgrounds the second edition of this popular book goes beyond simplistic definitions of diversity encouraging a much broader understanding and helping childhood educators and community based professionals develop a critical disposition towards assumptions about children and childhood in relation to diversity difference and social justice as well as drawing on research the book gives an overview of relevant contemporary social theories including poststructuralism cultural studies critical theory postcolonialism critical race theory feminist perspectives and queer theory it interrogates practice and explores opportunities and strategies for creating a more equitable environment whilst covering key issues impacting on children s lives including globalization neoliberalism new racisms immigration indigeneity refugees homophobia heterosexism and constructions of childhood each chapter provides an overview of the area of discussion a focus on the implications for practice and recommended readings providing insight into how social justice practices in childhood education and community based service delivery can make a real difference in the lives of children their families and communities this is key reading for early childhood and primary educators community based professionals university students and researchers this thoughtful topical book addresses a considerable range of diversity issues relevant to teacher educators their students and other professionals who work with children and their families within and beyond australia indigenous issues including language maintenance and revival have particular relevance within postcolonial nation states other issues of international relevance include identities and retention of community languages gender equity childhood and sexuality poverty and inequalities and related policies the writing is critical scholarly and engaging this timely second edition draws on the authors longstanding teacher education experiences and their most recent research to revisit the challenges of diversity and difference in children s lives dr valerie n podmore former associate professor faculty of education and social work the university of auckland new zealand the second edition of robinson and jones díaz s diversity and difference in childhood is a thoroughly welcome addition to my list of key texts for students of early childhood and childhood studies it provides a means from the outset for educating undergraduate students from within critical postmodern and post structural perspectives thus orienting their views of and actions within their future professions towards critical and equitable practices that value difference rather than treat it as a problem to be solved furthermore for practitioners who find themselves questioning modernist constructions of children development difference diversity and their work the book provides a thorough grounding in frameworks and tools that will help them re theorise what they are doing whilst simultaneously supporting them towards positive change alexandra c gunn associate dean teacher education university of otago college of education new zealand this is the 21st century early childhood education text diversity and difference in childhood provides early childhood educators and scholars a powerful space for asking social justice questions in a profoundly innovative way diversity and difference in childhood is not a traditional early childhood conversation as the authors appropriately suggest this book is for educators to challenge taken for granted knowledges practices and to take personal and professional risks for social justice veronica pacini ketchabaw ph d professor school of child and youth care university of victoria canada this new edition of diversity and difference is both important and timely there is a new urgency to some emerging childhood issues including those associated with childhood sexuality and a distinct lack of critical resources to inform the debate this book helps fill this gap undertaking a major revision and incorporating new material the authors have ensured the book s continued relevance and renewed significance in the very dynamic context of childhood studies the book makes an important contribution to resourcing explorations of the many difficult and complex issues associated with childhood in a globalised yet differentiated world readers will find the new theoretical resources and additional chapters that have been included give the book a sense of enhanced rigour and its depth and breadth of coverage make it an ideal resource for a wide variety of interests and perspectives christine woodrow associate professor and senior researcher the centre for educational research western sydney university australia
