Managerial Accounting

Accounting is the process of recording, summarizing, and reporting in terms of money the financial transactions and events that in whole or in part determine the financial position of an organization and the changes from period to period. It is a systematic process of identifying, measuring, and communicating financial information that enables management to present truthful information about the financial transactions and events that have occurred or are taking place within an organization.

Accounting is the process of recording, summarizing, and reporting in terms of money the financial transactions and events that in whole or in part determine the financial position of an organization and the changes from period to period.
