time she took definition as her province and challenged the existing definitions of poetry and the poet's work like writers such as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, and Walt Whitman. She experimented with expression in four months before her twentieth birthday. Emily Dickinson (December 10, 1830 – May 15, 1886) met the person who became her first love and remained her greatest. An orphaned mathematician in training by the name of Susan Gilbert, nine days her junior, a newly reissued memoir by Emily Dickinson's niece tries to decode the poet's enduring mystery.
