this book provides the most current thinking on effective interventions in the lives of criminal offenders original articles by leading criminologists provide in depth analyses of turning points in the desistance process experienced by criminal offenders an understanding of the sources of turning points or interventions across the life course is vital to assessing their impact on criminal behavior three sources of interventions in criminal careers are identified in the literature structural location human agency and situated choice structural location refers to the social place occupied by an individual in the social structure including marital and occupational status education and income and so on human agency means the active will of an individual to change his or her behavior that is the decision to stop engaging in criminal activities in addition situated choice coordinates the offender s willingness to end a life of crime with the social structural supports that increase the odds of criminal desistance this comprehensive book considers all three sources of turning points structural location human agency and situated choice across the life course of criminal this book is concerned with two areas of mathematics at first sight disjoint and with some of the analogies and interactions between them these areas are the theory of linear differential equations in one complex variable with polynomial coefficients and the theory of one parameter families of exponential sums over finite fields after reviewing some results from representation theory the book discusses results about differential equations and their differential galois groups  $G$  and one parameter families of exponential sums and their geometric monodromy groups  $g$  the final part of the book is devoted to comparison theorems relating  $G$  and  $g$  of suitably corresponding situations which provide a systematic explanation of the remarkable coincidences found by hand in the hypergeometric case
