a hands on book design students and designers alike will welcome elements of design is a tribute to an exceptional teacher and a study of the abstract visual relationships that were her lifelong pursuit rowena reed kiostellow taught industrial design at pratt institute for more than fifty years and the designers she trained and the designers they re training today have changed the face of american design this succinct instructive invaluable book reconstructs the series of exercises that led kostellow s students from the manipulation of simple forms to the creation of complex solutions to difficult design problems it includes her exercises and commentary along with selected student solutions and concludes with examples of work from former students who became leaders in the field including such well known figures as tucker viemeister ralph applebaum ted muehling and many others

Rethinking Design and Interiors

the world and the people living in it are increasingly and rapidly being affected by environmental and technological changes it is imperative that the design profession addresses these developments with a new way of thinking this book points the way for the design of interiors in this newly complex world and will be indispensable for students practitioners and theoreticians the book is divided into four chapters that explore aspects of the human experience of the interior from man s earliest search for shelter to an outline of past and current thinking on design psychology and well being an epilogue looks at such future concerns as population growth and sustainability and suggests how the design profession can confront these challenges rethinking design and interiors is a fascinating exploration of how art and science can come together for the benefit of those who inhabit the built environment digital fabrication in interior design body object enclosure draws together emerging topics of making that span primary forms of craftsmanship to digital fabrication in order to theoretically and practically analyze the innovative and interdisciplinary relationship between digital fabrication technology and interior design the history of making in interior design is aligned with traditional crafts but a parallel discourse with digital fabrication has yet to be made evident this book repositions the praxis of experimental prototyping and integrated technology to show how the use of digital fabrication is inherent to the interior scales of body objects and enclosure these three scales act as a central theme to frame contributions that reinforce the interdisciplinary nature of interior design and reinterpret traditional crafts by integrating new methods of making into conventional workflows featuring significant international practitioners and researchers the selected contributions represent the ever increasing interdisciplinary nature of design demonstrating a breadth of disciplines a foundational text for interiors students and practitioners digital fabrication in interior design expands the necessary dialogue about digital fabrication at the scale of interiors to inform design theory and practice one of our goals in publishing a design magazine is to set emigre apart from the herd we want to stay off the beaten path so to speak and seek out what lies beyond the obvious we want to push the limits of design publishing even as we work to survive when we noticed that in the last few years design publications had suddenly become oversweetened by so called eye candy we decided to challenge the imagination not just tickle the optic nerve and focus on design writing today when it comes to design writing we are not alone blogs are the new order and the order is growing design blogs have their virtues of course but blogging about design appears to be habit forming and has become an end in itself with the very rapid fire off the cuff nature of blogging favoring the short the sweet the quick and the now this phenomenon triggered in us a reflexive need to once again play the role of contrarian we wanted to do something unique something no other design magazine had ever done something that whatever it turned out to be would speak to designers in a way that a blog could not the answer came to us in the form of american mutt barks in the yard by david barringer it is the longest dear emigre letter we have ever received the author describes it as ambitious and reckless and impassioned but that s putting it mildly at 34 940 words it fills the entire 128 page issue of emigre 68 the essay started as a simple reply to issues 65 and 66 but exploded into an indepth critical analysis of design and advertising that only traditional book publishing can accommodate properly while we re aware of the paradox after all there s nothing unique about publishing a traditional book we have no doubt that david barringer s essay dares to tread where few have tread before i offer it for publication in emigre wrote barringer i can imagine it literally nowhere else neither can we
