israeli history textbooks in the past contained many biases distortions and omissions concerning the depiction of arabs and the history of the arab israeli conflict today these misrepresentations are gradually being corrected this study encourages the depiction of a balanced portrait in all textbooks by reviewing curricula and textbooks used in the israeli educational system since the establishment of Israel the author assesses the impact of Zionist historiography and the zeitgeist on the portrayal of Arabs in textbooks the study unravels the biases distortions omissions and stereotypes through the analysis of several major historical events such as the 1948 war the refugee question the 1967 war and the peace process textbooks have been standard schoolroom fixtures for as long as most living citizens of this country can remember many turn of the century students were introduced to reading through the moralistic McGuffey readers and struggled through the rather drab and colorless pages of volumes on history geography and civics in contrast today's textbooks contain not only narrative content accompanied by colorful photographs and graphics but also section and chapter exercises that are extended through the use of worksheets and other materials moreover the textbook and its related student materials are packaged together with teacher's editions and tests in grade level sets that amount to content area programs rather than mere texts
