for modern western theatre as practiced by its founding fathers including aurélien lugné poe adolphe appia gordon craig w b yeats jacques copeau charles dullin antonin artaud v e meyerhold sergei eisenstein and bertolt brecht it investigates the theories and practices of these leading figures in their transnational and cross cultural relationship with asian theatrical traditions and their interpretations and appropriations of the asian traditions in their reactional struggles against the dominance of commercialism and naturalism from the historical and aesthetic perspectives of traditional asian theatres it approaches this intercultural phenomenon as a euro centred process of displacement of the aesthetically and culturally differentiated asian theatrical traditions and of their historical differences and identities looking into the displaced and distorted mirror of asian theatre the founding fathers of modern western theatre saw in their imagination of the ghostly other nothing but a self reflection or more precisely a self projection and emplacement of their competing ideas and theories preconceived for the construction and the future development of modern approaching some well known works in mixed genres typical of the movement hans schulte reminds us in his retrospect that what was a longed for goal for the romantics had once been a given a fait accompli to the ancient greeks but the book is not backward looking on the contrary it reveals both the aesthetic revolution at the beginning of the nineteenth century and its far reaching impact as the title indicates through the nineteenth and into the twentieth century the editors from the preface co published with mcmaster university reprint of the original first published in 1843 the present volume meets a frequently expressed demand as it is the first collection of all the relevant essays and articles which steven paul scher has written on literature and music over a period of almost forty years in the field of word and music studies scher the daniel webster professor of german and comparative literature at dartmouth college hanover nh usa is one of the founding fathers of word and music studies and a leading authority in what is in the meantime a well established intermedial field he has published very widely in a variety of journals and collections of essays which until now have not always been easy to lay one s hands on his work covers a wide range of subjects and comprises theoretical methodological and historical studies which include discussions of ferruccio busoni thomas mann bertolt brecht judith weir the talking heads and many others and which pay special attention to e t a hoffmann and german romanticism the range and depth of these studies have made him the mastermind of word and music studies who has defined the basic aims and objectives of the discipline this volume is of interest to literary scholars and musicologists as well as comparatists and all those concerned about the rapidly expanding field of intermedia studies this volume contains august friedrich pott s einleitung in de allgemeine sprachwissenschaft which appeared between 1884 and 1890 in f techmer s internationale zeitschrift für allgemeine sprachwissenschaft leipzig in addition the volume contains pott s zur literatur der sprachenkunde europas leipzig 1887 the obituary by
