that link to other key learning areas is there too much emphasis on guided reading in primary classrooms it s a question that many educators like kindergarten teacher and literacy coach cathy mere are starting to ask guided reading provides opportunities to teach students the strategies they need to learn how to read increasingly challenging texts but cathy found that she needed to find other ways to help students gain independence while maintaining guided reading as an important piece of their reading program teachers need to offer students opportunities during the day to develop as readers to learn to choose books to find favorite genres and authors and to talk about their reading in more than guided reading cathy shares her journey as she moved from focusing on guided reading as the center of her reading program to placing children at the heart of literacy learning not only providing more time for students to discover their reading lives but also shaping instruction to meet the needs of the diverse learners in her classroom by changing the structure of the day cathy found she was better able to adjust the support she was providing students allowing time for whole class focus lessons conferences and opportunities to share ideas as well as reading from self selected texts using the strategies skills and understandings acquired in reader s workshop the focus lesson is the centerpiece of the workshop it is often tied to a read aloud and connected to learning from the previous day helping to build skills extend thinking and develop independence over time this thoroughly practical text offers numerous sample lessons questions for conferences and ideas for revamping guided reading groups it will help teachers tweak the mix of instructional components in their reading workshops and provoke school wide conversations about the place of guided reading in a complete literacy curriculum guided reading is the classroom reading recovery with supplements in the classroom every child is involved in focussed reading instruction small groups necessitate exceptional organization all this without the year long training that reading recovery participants have over the years teachers have been directed towards guided reading without knowledge of how to organize the class while working with small groups and further without the knowledge of what is involved in overt reading instruction this book will change that and give teachers the resources to organize and put in place worthwhile and relevant activities for children to independently engage in in this book significant suggestions are forwarded to make guided reading easier to implement and more effective this book challenges held views about guided reading misconceptions and misapplications of guided reading will be highlighted and in place will be effective pedagogy to help children move towards being truly confident thinking readers the teaching practices emphasized are managing differentiated reading instruction for early developing early fluent readers including a chapter relating to older readers class management while working with small groups independent tasks questioning and prompting so children acquire and use self help reading and comprehension strategies encouraging student talk where they explore and exchange ideas assessment and recording that informs instruction learn when and I ask and answer questions about key details in a text. CCSS.ELA.Literacy.RI.K.1 with prompting and support. I ask and answer questions about key details in a text if multiple choice questions are new to your students. I recommend putting simple questions in a multiple choice format during calendar time or other daily routines. I like to give each student a strip of cardstock with a b and c written on it and have them practice answering multiple choice questions by clipping a clothespin on the correct answer. This is an easy fun way for kids to develop confidence answering multiple choice questions. Once kids are comfortable with the multiple choice format, I like to discuss the first few passages with groups and demonstrate how to answer the simple text based multiple choice questions with guided practice. Kids quickly develop the skills they need to be successful reading these passages and independently answering the text dependent questions. These reading comprehension strategies that work passages are based on common sight words. I also have kids find and highlight selected sight words. Supports the following standards: CCSS.ELA.Literacy.RF.1.3g recognize and read grade appropriate irregularly spelled words for beginning of year words. CCSS.ELA.Literacy.RF.K.3c read common high frequency words by sight. Thank you for looking reading comprehension passages and questions education this is a book for all faculty who are concerned with promoting the persistence of all students whom they teach most recognize that faculty play a major role in student retention and success because they typically have more direct contact with students than others on campus however little attention has been paid to role of the faculty in this specific mission or to the corresponding characteristics of teaching teacher student interactions and connection to student affairs activities that lead to students long term engagement to their academic success and ultimately to graduation at a time when the numbers of underrepresented students working adults minority first generation low income and international students is increasing this book a companion to her earlier teaching underprepared students addresses that lack of specific guidance by providing faculty with additional evidence based instructional practices geared toward reaching all the students in their classrooms including those from groups that traditionally have been the least successful while maintaining high standards and expectations recognizing that there are no easy answers kathleen gabriel offers faculty ideas that can be incorporated in or modified to align with faculty s existing teaching methods she covers topics such as creating a positive and inclusive course climate fostering a community of learners increasing engagement and students interactions activating connections with culturally relevant material reinforcing self efficacy with growth mindset and mental toughness techniques improving lectures by building in meaningful educational activities designing reading and writing assignments for stimulating deep learning and critical thinking and making grade and assessment choices that can promote learning
