in tropical cyclones a strong inverse relationship exists between the magnitude of the upper tropospheric warm anomaly utwa and minimum sea level pressure mslp uniquely poised to capture this warming aloft the advanced microwave sounding unit amsu flown aboard current national oceanic and atmospheric administration noaa polar orbiting satellites is capable of observing tropical cyclones tc s worldwide a physical statistical mslp estimation algorithm based on amsu brightness temperature anomalies dtbs has been operating in an experimental mode at the university of wisconsin cooperative institute for meteorological satellite studies uw cimss for two years the algorithm relies on a single amsu channel 54.9 ghz and shows great promise as a viable tc analysis tool however the radiances can be susceptible to environmental variability leading to sub sampling and errors in mslp the goal of this research is to improve the existing single channel algorithm by introducing an additional channel 55.5 ghz that seeks to capture the true magnitude of the utwa in instances when the single channel fails by implementing the multi channel approach the goal is to create an operationally viable satellite based guidance tool to help support tropical forecast and analysis centers worldwide
