storage jars of many shapes and sizes were in widespread use in the ancient world transporting and storing agricultural products such as wine and oil crucial to agriculture economy trade and subsistence from the late 8th to the 2nd century bce the oval storage jars typical of judah were often stamped or otherwise marked in the late 8th and early 7th century bce with lmlk stamp impressions later in the 7th century with concentric circle incisions or rosette stamp impressions in the 6th century after the fall of jerusalem with lion stamp impressions and in the persian ptolemaic and seleucid periods late 6th late 2nd centuries bce with yhwd stamp impressions at the same time several ad hoc systems of stamp impressions appeared private stamp impressions were used on the eve of sennacherib's campaign mwsh stamp impressions after the destruction of jerusalem and yršlm impressions after the establishment of the hasmonean state while administrative systems that stamped storage jars are known elsewhere in the ancient near east the phenomenon in judah is unparalleled in its scale variety and continuity spanning a period of some 600 years without interruption this is the first attempt to consider the phenomenon as a whole and to develop a unified theory that would explain the function of these stamp impressions and shed new light on the history of judah during six centuries of subjugation to the empires that ruled the region as a vassal kingdom in the age of the assyrian egyptian and babylonian empires and as a province under successive babylonian persian ptolemaic and seleucid rule this book explores the premise that a physical theory is an interpretation of the analytico canonical formalism throughout the text the investigation stresses that classical mechanics in its lagrangian formulation is the formal backbone of theoretical physics the authors start from a presentation of the analytico canonical formalism for classical mechanics and its applications in electromagnetism schrödinger s quantum mechanics and field theories such as general relativity and gauge field theories up to the higgs mechanism the analysis uses the main criterion used by physicists for a theory to formulate a physical theory we write down a lagrangian for it a physical theory is a particular instance of the lagrangian functional so there is already an unified physical theory one only has to specify the corresponding lagrangian or lagrangian density the dynamical equations are the associated euler lagrange equations the theory of suppes predicates as the main tool in the axiomatization and examples from the usual theories in physics for applications a whole plethora of results from logic that lead to interesting and sometimes unexpected consequences this volume looks at where our physics happen and which mathematical universe we require for the description of our concrete physical events it also explores if we use the constructive universe or if we need set theoretically generic spacetimes the sixth refinement workshop took place at city university in london from 5th to 7th january 1994 the present volume includes all of the papers which were submitted and accepted for presentation together with two papers by invited speakers the workshops in the series have generally occurred at one year intervals but in this last case a two year period had elapsed these workshops have established themselves as an important event in the calendar for all those who are interested in progress in the underlying theory of refinement and in the take up by industry of the methods supported by that theory one of the proposed themes of the sixth workshop was the reporting of successful adoption in industry of rigorous software development methods the programme committee was perhaps slightly disappointed by the response from industry to the call in this respect however the recent period could be characterised as one of consolidation when those companies which have made the decision that formal development methods are important to their business have been adopting them where appropriate and finding them to be worthwhile on the other hand the difficult economic climate which exists in most parts of the developed world is perhaps not the context within which companies still dubious about the benefits are goil g to opt for making major changes in their working practices
