that he suffered retaliation for complaining about sexual discrimination in the athletic program of the school even though he himself was not the direct victim Jackson v Birmingham Board of Education, 544 U.S. 167 (2005). In order to increase opportunities for mediation, the EEOC expanded the charges eligible for mediation and now mediation is available at the conciliation stage after a finding of discrimination has been issued. In appropriate cases, the U.S. Supreme Court has held that under the Federal Arbitration Act, where parties to an arbitration agreement include a provision that delegates to the arbitrator the threshold question of enforceability of the arbitration agreement, if a party specifically challenges the enforceability of the entire agreement, the arbitrator would consider the challenge. If, however, the party only challenges the enforceability of the arbitration provision, the challenge must be heard by a court. Rent a Center West, Inc. v Jackson, 130 S.Ct. 2772 (2010). The lack of timeliness in filing a discrimination action is an affirmative defense and the burden of proof is on the employer. Salas v Wisconsin Department of Corrections, 493 F.3d 913, 922 (7th Cir. 2007). A federal employee's premature filing of a sexual harassment, employment discrimination, and retaliation complaint did not constitute a failure to exhaust administrative remedies so as to deprive the district court of subject matter jurisdiction. Brown v Snow, 440 F.3d 1259 (11th Cir. 2006). A majority of states impose a shorter period for filing with their agencies, though so the filing deadline is not always extended when a state has its own agency. The "single filing rule" under which a party who has not filed an EEOC charge or received a right to sue notice may "piggyback" his or her judicial action on the claim of a party who has satisfied those prerequisites has been described as a "carefully limited exception" to Title VII's procedural requirements. Price v Choctaw Glove and Safety Co., 459 F.3d 595 (5th Cir. 2006). Provided that an act contributing to the claim occurs within the filing period, the court may consider the entire period of the hostile environment for purposes of determining liability. Jordan v City of Cleveland, 464 F.3d 584 (6th Cir. 2006). The Supreme Court has held that a plaintiff's timely filing of an EEOC intake questionnaire which was followed by an affidavit stating "please force federal express to end their age discrimination" constituted a charge. Cautioning, however, that its permissiveness overlooked the expert is the person who has been passed over, let go, or ignored but is the lifeblood of the organization. Author Sarah Gerdes profiles 24 individuals who earned thousands of dollars using no more than their experience, knowledge, and know-how: intelligence, drive, and persistence. The common attributes of every person profiled in this book, including Gerdes herself, when she left the safety of a corporate job, she wasn't an expert or equipped with multiple degrees. She was a twenty-seven-year-old single mother who turned her knowledge into an internationally recognized and highly profitable consulting firm. Within a year, she was featured in Fortune magazine, invited to speak at Harvard, hired by 50 firms and two foreign governments. By year two, her client list had expanded as had her position in the industry where she was recognized for creating the consulting niche of outsourced partner development. In addition to learning how to assess your skills, the market opportunity, competition, and establishing pricing for your services, you will also find over 100 consulting vocations listed with descriptions, step-by-step lists to generate demand for your services, how to organize and hold events to spread the word, hire and keep good talent, pitch and negotiate fair deals with clients, leverage your services to products, recognize downturns, patterns, the overlooked expert has helped individuals prepare for the worst but also realize future dreams of retirement trips and savings through extra income. Other did it on their own, so can you.
