acclaimed adventure series about two friends desperate to save their doomed city has captivated kids and teachers alike for almost fifteen years and has sold over 3.5 million copies. Lina and Doon have led the citizens of Ember to an exciting new world when they discover a village called Sparks. They are welcomed, fed, and given places to sleep, but the town's resources are limited, and it isn't long before resentment begins to grow between the two groups. When mysterious acts of vandalism cause tempers to erupt, putting everyone's lives in danger, it's up to our two heroes to find the courage to stop the conflict and bring peace. Praise for the City of Ember books: nominated to 28 state award lists, an American Library Association Notable Children's Book, a New York Public Library 100 Titles for Reading and Sharing Selection, a Kirkus Reviews Editors' Choice, a Child Magazine Best Children's Book, a Mark Twain Award winner, a William Allen White Children's Book Award winner, a Realistic Post-Apocalyptic World. Dupa's book leaves Doon and Lina on the verge of undiscovered country, and readers wanting more. USA Today: an electric debut. Publishers Weekly: starred. While Ember is colorless and dark, the book itself is rich with description. VOYA: starred. Ingenious and funny. Magnificent. Alan Moore, creator of Watchmen and V for Vendetta: Jack Sparks died while writing this book. It was no secret that journalist Jack Sparks had been researching the occult for his new book. No stranger to controversy, he'd already triggered a furious Twitter storm by mocking an exorcism he witnessed. Then there was that video: forty seconds of chilling footage that Jack repeatedly claimed was not of his making, yet was posted from his own YouTube account. Nobody knew what happened to Jack in the days that followed. Until now. Wow, seriously hard to put down. M.R. Carey, author of The Girl with All the Gifts: articles on the poetry of Ghālib (1796-1869), vols. 19 and 22, contain a catalogue of institute library separately paged.
