the nepali state s rebranding of itself as an adventure destination from the 1970s on liechty is attuned to how the dynamics of mid twentieth century globalization the cold war and shifting international relations modernization and development ideologies the rise of consumerist middle classes increased mobility and the birth of mass tourism and emerging global youth countercultures drew nepal into the web of geopolitical economic and sociocultural transformations that shaped the modern world but liechty doesn t want to tell the story of tourism as something that just happened to nepalis he shows how western projections of nepal as an isolated place inspired creative nepali enterprises and paradoxically gave locals the opportunity to participate in the highly coveted global economy the result is a readable cultural history of a place that has been in many ways defined by a sometimes bizarre cultural encounter the author s lifelong interest in nepal and his almost twenty five years of research make his account both sophisticated and empathic but not without a touch of humor

Jewelers' Buyers Guide 1948 too often the study of philosophical texts is carried out in ways that do not pay significant attention to how the ideas contained within them are presented articulated and developed this was not always the case the contributors to this collected work consider jewish philosophy in the medieval period when new genres and forms of written expression were flourishing in the wake of renewed interest in ancient philosophy many medieval jewish philosophers were highly accomplished poets for example and made conscious efforts to write in a poetic style this volume turns attention to the connections that medieval jewish thinkers made between the literary the exegetical the philosophical and the mystical to shed light on the creativity and diversity of medieval thought as they broaden the scope of what counts as medieval jewish philosophy the essays collected here consider questions about how an argument is formed how text is put into the service of philosophy and the social and intellectual environment in which philosophical texts were produced

The Maid of Buttermere 2012-06-21 this book is the first to provide a detailed and critical account of the emergence development and implementation of plant variety protection laws in asian countries each chapter undertakes a critical socio legal analysis of one or more legal frameworks to understand evaluate and explore the concerns of diverse national stakeholders the histories and dynamics of law making and the ways in which plant variety protection and seed certification laws interact with local agricultural systems the book also assesses how asian countries can capitalise on the unused policy space in international agreements such as the agreement on trade related aspects of intellectual property rights and the international convention for the protection of new varieties of plants as well as international obligations beyond these such as those contained in the convention on biological diversity and the plant treaty it also highlights the many ways in which asian experiences can offer new insights into the relationship between intellectual property and plants and how relevant laws might be re imagined in other regions including africa europe and the americas by adding an important new perspective to the ongoing debate on intellectual property and plants this book will appeal to academics practitioners and policy makers engaged in work surrounding intellectual property laws agricultural biodiversity and plant breeding
