save us if its innovations mesh carefully into society and its applications are channelled for the common good as martin rees argues in this expert and personal analysis of the scientific endeavour on which we all depend we need to think globally we need to think rationally and we need to think long term empowered by twenty first century technology but guided by values that science alone cannot provide

Indigenous Peoples, Customary Law and Human Rights – Why Living Law Matters

2022-09-07 until recently scholarly consensus across the social sciences and history adhered to the view that the incorporation of citizen voice in governance e g democracy was an entirely western phenomenon that mostly is a product of the emergence of rational thought and the modern world these views are now empirically questioned and subject to serious reconsideration yet even researchers who recognize a broader temporal span for democratic or good governance draw fundamental distinctions between these political forms in the past and present building on the collective action theories in particular those focused on fiscal financing the editors of this research topic outline fundamental characteristics internal financing equitable taxation checks on power and a functioning bureaucracy at the core of good governance which are neither the sole project of the contemporary west nor tied to any specific ideological construct or form of leadership even elections can no longer be conceived as assurance of good governance at this time of global challenges to democracy understanding the comparative history of good governments their core institutions how they worked their foundations what led to their downfalls and the factors that prompted their sustenance or their collapses are extremely important to document the historical trends and coactive processes that underpinned those human cooperative arrangements which fostered growth and general well being require comparative focus if we are to draw on the wealth of human history to help craft better governance in the future and forestall the tripwires that lead to its failures we welcome contributions which focus on diachronic examinations of changes in the fiscal foundations of governance and their impacts on governance comparative analysis of governmental variability and its relationship to collective action and its fiscal financing cross temporal studies of shifts in the degree of good governance and relations to inequality sustainability bureaucracy public goods and services and fiscal financing the importance of social compacts and contracts in representative government and how these are sustained and break down alternatives and supplements to elections as means
