no artist critic or art historian disputes the importance of recording how and why our conceptions and methods of depicting pictorial space have changed from ancient to modern times and yet no previous book has provided a comprehensive history centered around these changing images of pictorial space and the ways in which their evolution reflects ideological changes in society dunning traces the two thousand year evolution of the conception and the depiction of space in european primarily italian and french and american painting unraveling one illusory image after another into their particular elements he explains the development of new styles and images in painting as a continuous rearrangement of these basic elements following this progression through the greco roman period the italian renaissance impressionism and the end of modern art the author concludes with today s postmodern concentration on linguistic aspects in painting a change from the former emphasis on space and illusion changing images of pictorial space with over forty illustrations will be of interest to a wide audience from art historians painters and art educators to general readers who wish to understand more about one of the central organizing principles in all schools and periods of art over the last twenty years professor franco giannessi a highly respected researcher has been working on an approach to optimization theory based on image space analysis his theory has been elaborated by many other researchers in a wealth of papers constrained optimization and image space analysis unites his results and presents optimization theory and variational inequalities in their light it presents a new approach to the theory of constrained extremum problems including mathematical programming calculus of variations and optimal control problems such an approach unifies the several branches optimality conditions duality penalizations vector problems variational inequalities and complementarity problems the applications benefit from a unified theory
