based on a real life love triangle and later made into françois truffaut s famous new wave film henri pierre roché s jules et jim is a paean to youth set in free spirited paris before the first world war jules and jim live a carefree bohemian existence they write in cafés travel when the mood takes them and share the women they love without jealousy like lucie flawless an abbess and odile impulsive mischievous almost feral but it is kate with a smile the two friends have determined to follow always but capricious enough to jump in the seine from spite who steals their hearts most thoroughly henri pierre roché was in his mid seventies when he wrote this his autobiographical debut novel the inspiration for the legendary film directed by françois truffaut it captures perfectly with excitement and great humour the tenderness of three people in love with each other and with life this penguin modern classics edition is translated by patrick evans with an introduction by agnès c poirier and an afterword by françois truffaut henri pierre roché 1879 1959 was born in paris after studying art at the academie julian he became a journalist and art dealer mixing with the avant garde artistic set his friends and acquaintances included the artists michel duchamp and francis picabia and in 1905 he introduced gertrude stein to pablo picasso in 1916 following his discharge from the french army roché went to new york and set up a dadaist magazine the blind man with duchamp and the artist beatrice wood it wasn t until his seventies that he wrote the semi autobiographical jules et jim 1953 his second novel les deux anglaises et le continent was published in 1956 if you enjoyed jules et jim you might like raymond radiguet s the devil in the flesh also available in penguin modern classics a perfect hymn to love and perhaps to life françois truffaut director of jules et jim and the 400 blows analyse van de nouvelle vague een stroming in de franse film uit de jaren 1960 1970 gezien vanuit amerikaans standpunt masculine singular is an original interpretation of french new wave cinema by one of france s leading feminist film scholars while most criticism of the new wave has concentrated on the filmmakers and their films geneviève sellier focuses on the social and cultural turbulence of the cinema s formative years from 1957 to 1962 the new wave filmmakers were members of a young generation emerging on the french cultural scene eager to acquire sexual and economic freedom almost all of them were men and they wrote in the masculine first person singular often using male protagonists as stand ins for themselves in their films they explored relations between men and women and they expressed ambivalence about the new liberated woman sellier argues that gender relations and the construction of sexual identities were the primary subject of new wave cinema sellier draws on sociological surveys box office data and popular magazines of the period as well as analyses of specific new wave films she examines the development of the new wave movement its sociocultural and economic context and the popular and critical reception of such well known films as jules et jim and hiroshima mon amour in light of the filmmakers focus on gender relations sellier reflects on the careers of new wave s iconic female stars including jeanne moreau and brigitte bardot sellier s thorough exploration of early new wave cinema culminates in her contention that its principal legacy the triumph of a certain kind of cinephilic discourse and of an auteur theory recognizing the director as artist came at a steep price creativity was reduced to a formalist game and affirmation of new wave cinema s modernity was accompanied by an association of creativity with masculinity
