this book highlights the historic inflection point we are in both in terms of philanthropy in general and specifically in financing the solutions to our largest and most urgent social and environmental problems it covers the two movements that have recently had a dramatic influence on capitalism first wealthy millennials have been pressuring their bankers to invest their family portfolios in companies with high social and environmental impact esg ratings triggering a wave where the wealth management industry and now all public companies are significantly adapting to the increasing demand for good second the giving pledge triggered another wave changing what success and the accumulation of wealth means it has even begun to redefine the goal of capitalism as more than 200 billionaires have pledged to give half or more of their wealth away this book also focuses on the bottleneck problem that the giving pledge has created as it is very hard to give hundreds of billions away with measurable impact to nonprofits lacking detailed long term plans to scale nonprofits have never had the luxury of having all the resources to invest in the planning management training and systems needed to rapidly expand thus taking in very large gifts is very difficult and almost impossible to justify large philanthropy can always be used for traditional capital campaigns and to fund endowments yet the giving pledge signers are often looking for large visible impact beyond these traditional avenues the result is a bottleneck which has grown as more billionaires pledge their funds away while their wealth continues to skyrocket and giving rates stay very small finally this book covers the emergence of large giving vehicles modelled after the private equity industry they have sophisticated third party managers focused on deploying funds and supporting management teams it also covers the scaling of nonprofits in a significant way big bets as well as investing large philanthropy through for profits as program related investments pri at scale this book is of interest specifically to nonprofit and foundation leaders as well as wealth managers estate attorneys and other philanthropic advisors it is also of interest to investors and corporate ceos as they begin to access these large pools for philanthropic capital to increase their impact this book is focused on providing those with the ability to make large philanthropic investments a path to scale their impact and increase their fulfillment and that of their family it provides a step by step guide of how these approaches especially pri at scale can actually solve the social and environmental challenges that have been seemingly hopeless

we all want our child to be the best they can be but how can we discover and encourage their natural talents clinical psychologist andrew

Fuller believes that every child has an innate sense of inquisitiveness, creativity, and lateral thinking that forms the basis of genius. However, social conditioning and school life can lead to a desire to conform and fit in, which can squash their curiosity. For parents and grandparents, Andrew Fuller's new book holds the way to unlock their child's genius. No, the answer is not homework, more after-school tutoring, or blaming the school. Yes, the answer is thinking, talking, and listening, and delightfully making mistakes together, covering the age range of 2 to 18. Andrew draws on the latest research and his own extensive work with thousands of children in private practice. He shows parents how to recognise the qualities in their child that predict genius: creativity, motivation, determination, imagination, and the willingness to build on these essential foundations, regardless of which field their talents lie in.
