David Grieve and his sister are orphans being raised by their aunt and uncle in the country. David is unhappy and runs away to the city of Manchester hoping to find work and make enough money to send for his sister. He learns the bookshop trade, ultimately acquiring his own shop and writes religious pamphlets. After receiving an unexpected inheritance, David's sister joins him. She has grown up now and is determined to live on her own terms. She goes to Paris and has an affair with a bohemian artist. David is devastated and wants to save her from this unconventional life. Religious figures come into the story, influencing both characters.

A Passionate Pilgrim

Dumplin meets Geekerella in debut author Jenna Miller's queer body-positive love story that explores online and offline relationships in all of their messiness. If you asked seventeen-year-old Cass Williams to describe herself, she'd happily tell you she's fat, a lesbian, and obsessed with the Tide Wars books. What she won't tell you or anyone in her life is that she's part of an online Tide Wars roleplay community. Sure, it's nerdy as hell, but when she's behind the screen writing scenes as Captain Aresha, she doesn't have to think about her mother who walked out or how unexpectedly stressful it is dating resident cool girl Taylor Cooper, but secretly retreating to her online life is starting to catch up with Cass. For one, no one in her real life knows her secret roleplay addiction is the reason her grades have taken a big hit. Also, Cass has started catching feelings for Rowan Davies, her internet bestie, and Taylor might be catching on as Cass's lies continue to build. So does her anxiety. Roleplaying used to be the one place she could escape to, but this double life and offline/online love triangle have only made things worse. Cass must decide what to do: be honest and risk losing her safe space, or keep it a secret and put everything else on the line.
