Bringing the best out in Boys 2015-01-25 irish children s literature and culture looks critically at irish writing for children from the 1980s to the present examining the work of many writers and illustrators and engaging with major genres forms and issues including the gothic the speculative picturebooks ethnicity and globalization it contextualizes modern irish children s literature in relation to irish mythology and earlier writings as well as in relation to irish writing for adults thereby demonstrating the complexity of this fascinating area what constitutes a national literature is rarely straightforward and it is especially complex when discussing writing for young people in an irish context until recently there was only a slight body of work that could be classified as irish children s literature in comparison with ireland s contribution to adult literature in the twentieth century the contributors to the volume examine a range of texts in relation to contemporary literary and cultural theory and children s literature internationally raising provocative questions about the future of the topic irish children s literature and culture is essential reading for those interested in irish literature culture sociology childhood and children s literature valerie coghlan church of ireland college of education dublin is a librarian and lecturer she is a former co editor of bookbird an international journal of children s literature she has published widely on irish children s literature and co edited several books on the topic she is a former board member of the irscl and a founder member of the irish society for the study of children s literature children s books ireland and ibby ireland keith o sullivan lectures in english at the church of ireland college of education dublin he is a founder member of the irish society for the study of children s literature a former member of the board of directors of children s books ireland and past chair of the children s books ireland bisto book of the year awards he has published on the works of philip pullman and emily brontë

Northeast National Petroleum Reserve-Alaska (NPR-A) 1998 reprint of the original first published in 1875

Sequoia National Forest (N.F.), Sequoia National Forest (N.F.) Trail System Plan 1998 the seventh volume of this new definitive edition of lewis and clark s journals begins as the expedition turns homeward on march 23 1806 the corps of discovery left fortøclatsop their winter quarters on the pacific coast for the long return journey to the united states although they were largely retracing their outbound route their journals were still filled with descriptions of the country and its people and new discoveries were yet to be made they departed from the columbia river at one point to take an overland shortcut between the walla walla and snake rivers and reached the latter a little below the mouth of the clearwater detained by winter snows at the edge of the rockies the corps camped among the friendly nez perce indians here in modern west central idaho the captains attended to sick indians and continued their scientific studies while others in the party passed the time hunting and socializing by june 9 the captains decided to resume their move eastward according to the nez perces the snow would not be gone from the mountains along the lolo trail until early july but the party looking homeward left the clearwater valley for the flats above the river incorporating substantial new scholarship concerning all aspects of the expedition from indian languages to plants and animals to details of geography and history this edition greatly expands and updates the annotation of the last one published in 1904 5

Index Medicus 2004 since the time of columbus explorers dreamed of a water passage across the north american continent president thomas jefferson shared this dream he conceived the corps of discovery to travel up the missouri river to the rocky mountains and westward along possible river routes to the pacific ocean meriwether lewis and william clark led this expedition of 1804 6 along the way they filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations of the geography indian tribes and natural history of the trans mississippi west after a rainy winter the corps of discovery turned homeward in march 1806 from fort clatsop on the mouth of the columbia river detained by winter snows they camped among the friendly nez perces in modern west central idaho lewis and clark attended to sick indians and continued their scientific observations while others in the party hunted and socialized with native peoples
