unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 we have not used ocr optical character recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 in books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc we have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy the publication of this issue on future for europe marks a new milestone for tpq the journal was founded in 2002 and we celebrated its 20th anniversary with the last issue on artificial intelligence and democratic values among many academics and ai policy professionals it was considered a landmark publication turkish policy quarterly tpq now has a new identity as transatlantic policy quarterly tpq our plans to move with this name have been ongoing for a while the success of the last issue was a perfect illustration of the necessity of this change tpq s editorial and curatorial policies have and will continue to reflect a global perspective without sacrificing its roots this means we will extend our coverage beyond what we currently offer in the wake of the russian incursion into the ukraine european soil has seen a return of tragedy as memories of the second world war on the continent have receded it has been argued that the european project has lost appeal over the past few decades this is no longer the case the war has also exposed the eu s deficiencies and highlighted the fact that it must be reformed to fulfill the needs of the twenty first century the covid 19 pandemic is also one of the most significant events in our lifetime and it has radically altered the way europeans perceive their own societies and the world in general nonetheless one of the most important lessons we can learn from these tragic events is that we must show a strong constant and united capability to deter and confront acts of violence professor thomas diez writes that the war in ukraine fundamentally challenges the post cold war international order in that regard he believes that alternative visions of a european order should be developed to counter the scenario of a renewed cold war the author reassesses the concepts of interdependence socialization normative power and international society in his contribution to uncover some general lessons for the european order as well as provide concrete suggestions for alternative policy strategies as he points out such an order would require more honest engagement a system of great power management with social links and a creative approach to thinking about joint institutions and regional overlaps professor knud erik jørgensen starts with a timely question europe s hour of reckoning in his view the hour of reckoning refers to when one must confront past mistakes and determine a course of action he says russia s war in ukraine exposes numerous mistakes europe made in the past and accelerates the development of a new foreign policy paradigm as a result he examines the role played by the emerging policy paradigm in shaping the politics of eu foreign policy furthermore the article argues that the emerging paradigm is closely linked if not dependent on the ongoing processes of reckoning that is to the extent with which past mistakes are acknowledged lastly the article makes a case that the twin processes of reckoning and paradigm change make up a crucial element of europe s future professor giuseppe bertola explores a different perspective according to her the common market project that after world war ii aimed to prevent future wars among european nations has evolved through crises into a complex and unstable set of policies and institutions to govern the european union a pandemic caused by the covid 19 virus and the war in ukraine strengthened coordination and added issuance of common debt to the supranational policy toolkit nevertheless nextgeneu relies heavily on government subsidies rather than on market incentives and russian invasion of the ukraine demonstrates that economic integration can only shift the boundaries of war from nation based to those of the integrated economic area we invite you to learn more about the factors that will shape the future of europe
