The Origins of War 2011-03-10

Debate rages within the Catholic Church about the ethics of war and peace, but the simple question of why wars begin is too often neglected. Catholic assumptions about the causes of conflict are almost always drawn uncritically from international relations theory, a field dominated by liberalism, realism, and Marxism, which is not always consistent with Catholic theology. In The Origins of War, Matthew A. Shadle examines several sources to better understand why war happens.

his retrieval of biblical literature and the teachings of figures from church tradition sets the course for the book. Shadle then explores the growing awareness of historical consciousness within the Catholic tradition. The way beliefs and actions are shaped by time, place, and culture. He examines the work of contemporary Catholic thinkers like Pope John Paul II, Jacques Maritain, John Courtney Murray, Dorothy Day, Brian Hehir, and George Weigel. In the constructive part of the book, Shadle analyzes the movement within international relations theory known as constructivism, which proposes that war is largely governed by a set of socially constructed and cultural influences. Constructivism, Shadle claims, presents a way of interpreting international politics that is highly amenable to a Catholic worldview and can provide a new direction for the Christian vocation of peacemaking.

a synopsis of the bura project the three major rationale for writing this book are primarily to through the study of african language family groups trace the origin of the tribe to a more specific location rather than the diffused response of from the east secondly to investigate why and how the word pabir babur came on the scene referring to a separate ethnic group different or the same as the bura and thirdly to document some of the vanishing bura cultural practices and deeds for example what their beliefs are their marriage practices local industries and what they do to pass time it is my strong belief that the first objective is accomplished through our analysis and presentation of the proto afro asiatic linguistic family classification group and its subgroup the proto chadic of which the biu mandara forms a sub branch through a systemic and vigorous study of the classification of the different languages comprising this proto family of languages and its sub branches we are able to assert that the bura people were among many other ethnic groups part of a group whose origin can be traced to the levant region of south west asia and the middle east they belong to the group that forms back to africa migration this is because modern genetic studies of languages indicate that they re the only group that have traces of y chromosome belonging to haplogroup r1b r v88 in africa but found mainly in asia and europe after tracing the influences of the powerful kanem ca 700 1376 and later bornu kanem 1380 1893 empires around the lake chad region as well as the kingdom of mandara founded in about 1459 i e end of the 15th century in what is today modern cameroon on the inhabitants of the region we conclude a chaotic period of migrations and wars including trade in slaves it is through this prism that we notice the emergence of the founder of the woviri dynasty of biu through his failure to win the maiship of bornu he moved to mandara and then the plateau of biu with some of his followers or relatives being a student of history abduhi or who later became yamta ra wala attempted to replicate what the kanembu were able to do among the local people they conquered some centuries earlier they created an ethnicity and language called kanuri yamta ra wala succeeded somewhat but wasn't able to completely conquer the bura people and turn them in his new ethnic vision instead the buras went to the hills to fight him the next day the new breed he created he called pabir or babur as the hausa would call them the myth of who yamta ra wala is has for the present eclipsed historians and would probably continue for some time to come as for the bura most have down the hill tops and mountains and the pabir they have never been closer than today today for all practical purposes they are one and the same ethnic group they've intermingled more than any two previously separated groups their vocabulary phonology and cultural practices have fused into one in most instances
