in a world overcrowded with labels don t allow your identity to be defined by other people learn how to take back your power choose to feed the aspects of your identity that serve you and let go of those that don t everyone feels like an outsider at some point in their life when we walk into a room and think to ourselves i don t belong here to avoid these feelings of exclusion many of us hide our authentic selves and allow others to define our identity you belong here offers a new framework that allows each of us to define how we want to be seen heard and valued on our own terms so we feel a sense of belonging in any situation further it serves as a launchpad for organizational leaders and culture builders to create safe spaces for individuals to show up as their authentic selves readers will explore our four identities our lived identity is made up of the aspects of our identity we inherit when we are born into the world our learned identity includes the parts of our identity that we ve chosen or claimed as we make our way through the world our lingering identity is the identity we default to when we feel like an outsider and fall back into as a survival mechanism our loved identity is where we find our authentic selves and see ourselves through a lens of empowerment in the journey to understand our past experiences and how society has established barriers to entry we can design our own future rooted in our loved identity we learn to rewrite the stories that aren t serving us and embrace the ones that do rather than look for a seat at someone else s table we find the tools to build our own when we fully leverage this and live with authenticity and purpose we can be seen heard and valued in a way that gives us a sense of belonging at home at work and in society belonging is realized when we understand everyone is an outsider and it s the power to create space for those differences that unite us all winner of the 2021 books are my bag readers award for non fiction shortlisted for the 2021 wainwright prize i knew in every bone of my body in every fibre of my being that i had to report what had happened not only for myself but to help stop anyone else having to go through what i did i knew i could not remain silent or still i could not stop walking through the world a journey of reclamation through the natural landscapes of the north brilliantly exploring identity nature place and belonging beautifully written and truly inspiring i belong here heralds a powerful and refreshing new voice in nature writing anita sethi was on a journey through northern england when she became the victim of a race hate crime the crime was a vicious attack on her right to exist in a place on account of her race after the event anita experienced panic attacks and anxiety a crushing sense of claustrophobia made her long for wide open spaces to breathe deeply in the great outdoors she was intent on not letting her experience stop her travelling freely and without fear the pennines known as the backbone of britain runs through the north and also strongly connects north with south east with west it is a place of borderlands and limestone of rivers and scars of fells and forces the pennines called to anita with a magnetic force although a racist had told her to leave she felt drawn to further explore the area she regards as her home to immerse herself deeply in place anita's journey through the natural landscapes of the north is one of reclamation a way of saying that this is her land too and she belongs in the uk as a brown woman as much as a white man does her journey transforms what began as an ugly experience of hate into one offering hope and finding beauty after brutality anita transforms her personal experience into one of universal resonance offering a call to action to keep walking onwards every footstep taken is an act of persistence every word written against the rising tide of hate speech such as this book is an act of resistance barbara taylor bradford s unique blend of passion and intrigue has made her one of the most cherished storytellers in the world her new novel is vintage bradford a powerful suspenseful story of one woman s search to find out where she belongs in life in love and within herself where you belong val denning a willowy war photographer left her american family and cruelly unloving mother for a life abroad and a life of danger but val's dazzling world of work, risk, and love has suddenly come apart. An assignment in Kosovo left her lover dead and val adrift in Paris. Soon, in her grief, with horrific battle scenes etched in her mind, val will realize that she was lied to by the man she loved and that another man, a friend, has loved her for years. Now val must start unraveling mysteries of a man's life and lies and of her own childhood, caught between a new life and her past. val is about to face the hardest choice of all: the choice between running away again or truly starting anew.

winner of the 2022 Goldsmith Book Prize, the long-buried story of three extraordinary female journalists who permanently shattered the barriers to women covering war: Kate Webb, an Australian iconoclast; Catherine Leroy, a French daredevil photographer; and Frances Fitzgerald, a blue-blooded American intellectual. Arrived in Vietnam with starkly different life experiences but one shared purpose: to report on the most consequential story of the decade at a time when women were considered unfit to be foreign reporters. Frankie, Catherine, and Kate challenged the rules imposed on them by the military, ignored the belittlement of their male peers, and ultimately altered the craft of war reportage for generations. In You Don't Belong Here, Elizabeth Becker uses these women's work and lives to illuminate the Vietnam War from the 1965 American buildup, the expansion into Cambodia, and the American defeat and its aftermath. Arriving herself in the last years of the war, Becker writes as a historian and a witness of the times. What emerges is an unforgettable story of three journalists forging their place in a land of men, often at great personal sacrifice. Deeply reported and filled with personal letters, interviews, and profound insight, You Don't Belong Here fills a void in the history of women and of war.
