it was not unusual during the renaissance for cooks to torture animals before slaughtering them in order to render the meat more tender for women to use needlepoint to cover up their misconduct and prove their obedience and for people to cover the walls of their own homes with graffiti items and activities as familiar as mirrors books horses everyday speech money laundry baskets graffiti embroidery and food preparation look decidedly less familiar when seen through the eyes of renaissance men and women in renaissance culture and the everyday such scholars as judith brown frances dolan richard helgerson debora shuger don wayne and stephanie jed illuminate the sometimes surprising issues at stake in just such common matters of everyday life during the renaissance in england and on the continent organized around the categories of materiality women and transgression and constantly crossing these categories the book promotes and challenges readers thinking of the everyday while not ignoring the aristocratic it foregrounds the common person the marginal and the domestic even as it presents the unusual details of their existence what results is an expansive variegated and sometimes even contradictory vision in which the strange becomes not alien but a defining mark of everyday life

Routledge International Encyclopedia of Queer Culture

this book is an attempt to save the sexual from the oblivion to which certain strands in queer theory tend to condemn it and at the same time to limit the risks of anti politics and solipsism contained in what has been termed antisocial queer theory it takes a journey from sigmund freud to mario mieli and guy hocquenghem from michel foucault and judith butler to teresa de lauretis leo bersani lee edelman and tim dean and from all of these thinkers back to immanuel kant and thomas hobbes at the end through readings of bruce labruce s movies on gay zombies the elitism of antisocial queer theory is brought into contact with popular culture the living dead come to represent a dispossessed form of subjectivity whose monstrous drives are counterposed to predatory desires of liberal individuals the reader is thus lead into the interstitial spaces of the queer apocalypses where the past and the future collapse onto the present and sexual minorities resurrect to the chance of a non heroic political agency
