The Way of the Sith Part 3: Doctrine of Action and Hierarchy 2024-01-03 over the past decade cultural theory has seen a number of turns the materialist turn the animal turn the affective turn that address the human as an affective embodied and ultimately vulnerable animal embedded in dense webs of more than human relations in short as a posthuman phenomenon care philosophy shares this focus on embodiment and vulnerability in its insistence on interdependence as the defining condition of human life making it well positioned for a posthuman turn to this end curious kin in fictions of posthuman care draws together contemporary narrative fictions that challenge humanist conceptions of care in their imaginative depiction of more than human affective bonds arguing for an expansion care philosophy s central figure the embodied embedded and encumbered human fictional narratives of care between humans and robots bioengineered clones nonhuman animals aliens or inanimate objects highlight the limits of humanist ethical and capacity to register and accommodate posthuman
