describes the nature of teriyama s stories and the interstitial webbing joining them together thematically by the metaphorical twisting together of unrequited love abandonment irremediable separation and disappointment told in the manner of fantasy and magic realism the stories are populated with characters who face the vagaries of fortune happiness always just out of their reach terayama is a realist speaking through the medium of fantasy the stories are tales for adults and indeed they are written in such a way as to mimic and sometimes parody classic fairy tale style yet these tales are far from traditional in content rather they turn our conventional thinking and expectations upside down this topsy turvy world of terayama is unsettling and disconcerting at times but his world is without a doubt thought provoking joses and jude are brothers with a common goal they both seek to defeat and expel the romans from palestine and rule israel themselves the problem is only one of them can rule who wins will decide the course of history jesus was a warrior and a mystic and he did not consider the two to be mutually exclusive the question is who was jesus the crimson thread points to the obvious and the reader is in for a big surprise the book has loads of action a host of visions and the exposure of nearly all sacred cows finally available a high quality book of the original
