the proposed book is best described as a linguistically oriented textbook taking the grammar of english as its subject matter it is directed to professional teachers of english esl and efl and their students as well as those currently training to become teachers of english the book is also likely to be of interest to interpreters translators and other english language professionals it will explore selected aspects and problem areas of english from a broadly functional linguistic perspective my experience as a teacher and teacher trainer has shown me that this perspective has the potential to inspire teachers and students with a genuine enthusiasm for the grammatical features of english and that it often enables them to make sense of the grammar in a way that all too often other approaches signally fail to do an important focus of the book is on understanding grammar as a series of conventionalized patterns rather than a set of rules which is how grammar has traditionally been presented moreover unlike many other grammar books this book emphasizes how the grammatical constructions under consideration are employed in various types of communicative situation attention being given to the importance of discourse context in interpreting the target forms in line with contemporary linguists generally the approach adopted is descriptive rather than prescriptive while the main focus is on english i offer occasional comments on how the issue under discussion is expressed in languages other than english apart from the inherent interest which i hope such comparisons may have for the reader i take the view that these can be helpful in casting further light on the grammar of english on the 26th of november 1992 the organizing committee gathered together at luigi salce s invitation for the first time the tradition of abelian groups and modules italian conferences rome 77 udine 85 bressanone 90 needed to be kept up by one more meeting since that first time it was clear to us that our goal was not so easy in fact the main intended topics of abelian groups modules over commutative rings and non commutative rings have become so specialized in the last years that it looked really ambitious to fit them into only one meeting anyway since everyone of us shared the same mathematical roots we did want to emphasize a common link so we elaborated the long symposium schedule three days of abelian groups and three days of modules over non commutative rings with a two days bridge of commutative algebra in between many of the most famous names in these fields took part to the meeting over 140 participants both attending and contributing the 18 main lectures and 64 communications see list on page xv provided a really wide audience for an algebra meeting now that the meeting is over we can say that our initial feeling was right this volume brings together scholars of diverse theoretical persuasions who all share an interest in capturing the role that nominal determination and reference assignment play in the complicated interplay between thought language and communication the articles can be divided roughly into five main areas of concern the conceptual level of determination the emergence and function of articles their semantic contribution to nominal interpretation the morphology and syntax of determiners and the interplay and contrasts between articles demonstratives and possessives thus linguistic and philosophical issues in the subject field of nominal determination are addressed at all interface levels between morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics this volume shows that different theoretical frameworks may be brought fruitfully together in the effort to formulate new analyses of well known problems but also to raise new questions and point to new areas which may prove interesting topics for future research both in functional and formal paradigms
