this book charts the path to revitalisation for trade unions in australia the usa the uk and italy it examines the examples of innovation and digital campaigning that are enabling unions to build new forms of worker power and overcome decades of declining membership wrought by neoliberalism globalisation and hostility from employers and the state the study evaluates the responses of unions in each country to falling membership levels since the 1980s it considers the us organising model and its adoption in australia and the uk comparing this with the strategies of italian unions which have been more deliberately focused on precarious and migrant workers the increasing reliance of us unions on community alliances as seen in the fight for 15 and similar campaigns is scrutinised along with new union prototypes like hospos voice in australia the independent workers union of great britain and si cobas in italy the book includes an in depth analysis of union responses to the gig economy in the four countries and the emergence of self organised worker collectives to combat this exploitative business model the vital role played by unions in defending the interests of workers during the covid 19 pandemic is also examined as well as highlighting the most successful union initiatives to meet the challenges of the past 30 years the book assesses the strengths and deficiencies of the legal framework for union representation in the four nations it identifies the labour law reforms needed to rebuild collectivism but argues that more is needed than favourable laws this cross national study provides a rich basis for identifying the combination of reforms strategies and linkages required to ensure that unions can remain relevant for a new generation of digitally active workers previous works on discourse analysis and pragmatics have either been dominantly focused on theory or on practice without much balance and attention to both theory and analysis the present volume seeks to strike a balance between the two closely related disciplines on the one hand and between the study of theory in the two disciplines and on issues of methodology and application in specific areas of enquiry on the other the book seeks to provide a cross sectional view of scholarship in these areas specifically from the perspective of how the intersection of theory and practice enables nigerian scholars of discourse analysis and pragmatics to understand and analyse texts that have pan nigerian peculiarities at independence in 1980 julius nyerere called zimbabwe the jewel of africa and cautioned its new leaders not to tarnish it tragically they paid no heed to africa s esteemed elder statesmen arguably and only if one ignores the carnage of gukurahundi the first decade was a developmental one with resources being used prudently to benefit the formerly disadvantaged majority population however the 1990s witnessed a transition from a developmental to a predatory leadership which saw zimbabwe cross the millennial line in crisis where it has remained ever since while many african countries have moved forward over the last three decades zimbabwe has gone relentlessly backwards save for the four year interregnum of the tripartite coalition government 2009 2013 virtually all development indicators point in the wrong direction and the crisis of poverty unemployment and the erosion of health education and other public goods continues unabated the imperatives of political survival and power politics supersede those of sound economics and public welfare moreover unless good politics are conjoined with a sound people first policy the country will continue sliding downhill zimbabwe s trajectory tells the story of the country s post independence dynamics and its recent descent into becoming one of the three most unhappy countries in the world
