volume 3 of 4 this volume contains the war services of 1 regular officers on the active list and on retired pay and officers on the general reserve 2 officers of the special reserve of officers the territorial force and those serving on temporary commissions who had war service prior to the war of 1914 19 and who were gazetted before 2nd january 1918 to mentions in despatches and honours in the war of 1914 20 also included under separate headings are queen alexandra s imperial military nursing service territorial force nursing service queen mary s army auxiliary corps as well as officers of the forces of the oversea dominions and colonies names are arranged alphabetically it should be noted that officers of the regular army including those with temporary commissions special reserve and territorial force who have retired or have relinquished their commissions with permission to retain rank but are not in receipt of any retired pay from army funds are not included in these lists their details are published in a separate supplementary volume john hargreaves examines how the british french belgian spanish and portuguese colonies in tropical africa became independent in the postwar years and in doing so transformed the international landscape african demands for independence and colonial plans for reform central to the story are seen here in the wider context of changing international relationships existing studies of the vietnam war have been written mostly from an american perspective using western sources and viewing the conflict through western eyes this book based on extensive original research including vietnamese chinese and former soviet sources tells the story of the war from the tet offensive in 1968 up to the reunification of vietnam in april 1975 overall it provides an important corrective to the predominantly us centric narratives of the war by placing the vietnamese communists centre stage in the story it is a sequel to the author s routledge curzon book the vietnam war from the other side which covers the period 1962 68 this book explores the creation and destruction of abel gance s most ambitious film project and seeks to explain why his meteoric career was so nearly extinguished at the end of silent cinema by 1929 gance was france s most famous director acclaimed for his technical innovation and visual imagination he was also admonished for the excessive length and expense of his productions gance s first sound film la fin du monde 1930 was a critical and financial disaster so great that it nearly destroyed his career but what went wrong gance claimed it was commercial sabotage whilst critics blamed the director s inexperience with new technology neither excuse is satisfactory based on extensive archival research this book re investigates the cultural background and aesthetic consequences of gance s transition from silent filmmaking to sound cinema la fin du monde is revealed to be only one element of an extraordinary cultural project to transform cinema into a universal religion and propagate its power through the league of nations from unfinished films to unrealized social revolutions the reader is given a fascinating tour of gance s lost cinematic utopia feast throughout human history and in all parts of the world feasts have been at the heart of life the great museums of the world are full of the remains of countless ghostly feasts dishes that once bore rich meats pitchers used to pour choice wines tall jars that held beer sipped through long straws of gold and lapis immense cauldrons from which hundreds of people could be served why were feasts so important and is there more to feasting than abundance and enjoyment the never ending feast is a pioneering work that draws on anthropology archaeology and history to look at the dynamics of feasting among the great societies of antiquity renowned for their magnificence and might reflecting new directions in academic study the focus shifts beyond the medieval and early modern periods in western europe eastwards to mesopotamia assyria and achaemenid persia early greece the mongol empire shang china and heian japan the past speaks through texts and artefacts we see how feasts were the primary arena for displays of hierarchy status and power a stage upon which loyalties and alliances were negotiated the occasion for the mobilization and distribution of resources a means of pleasing the gods and the place where identities were created consolidated and destroyed the never ending feast transforms our understanding of feasting past and present revitalising the fields of anthropology archaeology history museum studies material culture and food studies for all of which it is essential reading neoliberalism s war against democracy and how to resist it how do we explain the strange survival of the forces responsible for the 2008 economic crisis one of the worst since 1929 how do we explain the fact that neoliberalism has emerged from the crisis strengthened when it broke a number of the most prominent economists hastened to announce the death of neoliberalism they regarded the pursuit of neoliberal policy as the fruit of dogmatism for pierre dardot and christian laval neoliberalism is no mere dogma supported by powerful oligarchies it is a veritable politico institutional system that obeys a logic of self reinforcement far from representing a break crisis has become a formidably effective mode of government in showing how this system crystallized and solidified the book explains that the neoliberal straitjacket has succeeded in preventing any course correction by progressively deactivating democracy increasing the disarray and demobilization the so called governmental left has actively helped strengthen this oligarchical logic the latter could lead to a definitive exit from democracy in favour of expertocratic governance free of any control however nothing has been decided yet the revival of democratic activity which we see emerging in the political movements and experiments of recent years is a sign that the political confrontation with the neoliberal system and the oligarchical bloc has already begun how and when should we end a war what place should the pathways to a war s end have in war planning and decision making this volume treats the topic of ending war as part and parcel of how wars begin and how they are fought a unique complex problem worthy of its own conversation new essays by leading thinkers and practitioners in the fields of philosophical ethics international relations and military law reflect on the problem and show that it is imperative that we address not only the resolution of war but how and if a war as waged can accommodate a future peace the essays collectively solidify the topic and underline its centrality to the future of military ethics strategy and war with the inclusion of access to energy in the sustainable development goals the role of energy to human existence was finally recognized yet in africa this achievement is far from realized omorogbe and ordo bring together experts in their fields to ask what is stalling progress examining problems from institutions catering to vested interests at the continent s expense to a need to develop vigorous financial and fiscal frameworks the ramifications and complications of energy law are labyrinthine this volume discusses how energy deficits can burden disabled people women and children in excess of their more fortunate counterparts as well as considering environmental issues including the delicate balance between the necessity of water for drinking and cleaning and the use of water in industrial processes a pivotal work of scholarship the book poses pressing questions for energy law and international human rights this classic text presents blair s beveridge lecture alongside the views of some of britain s foremost policy analysts and commentators it provides a rich tapestry of analysis insight and reflection that will stimulate critical debate about the shape of british welfare for some time to come in 1915 women from over thirty countries met in the hague to express opposition to world war i and propose ways to end it the delegates made three demands for women to be present at all international peace conferences a women s only peace conference to be convened alongside any official negotiations and the establishment of universal suffrage while these demands went unmet at the time contemporary women s groups continue to seek participation in peace negotiations and to have language promoting gender equality inserted into all peace agreements between 1975 and 2011 about 40 of all conflicts that produced peace agreements resulted in at least one with references to women many of these clauses addressed compensation for wartime gender based violence and guarantees for women s participation in the post conflict transitional period others included electoral quotas and changes to inheritance legislation curiously the language used to address women is near consistent across these agreements and that is because it reflects international women s rights norms rather than more local norms why is it that though a peace agreement s primary objective is to end conflict some include potentially controversial provisions about gender that might delay or complicate reaching an agreement why do these provisions echo international norms rather than local cultural ones and which factors make it more likely that women s rights will appear in peace agreements windows of opportunity answers these questions by examining peace negotiations in burundi macedonia and northern ireland along with 195 peace agreements signed between 1975 and 2011 it looks at the key actors involved in lobbying for women s participation along with their motivations objectives and strategies it also explores the reasons for similarities among the gender provisions reprint of the original first published in 1875 why does hunger persist in a world of plenty ending hunger worldwide challenges the naive notion that everyone wants hunger to end arguing that the powerful care but not enough to make a difference george kent argues that the central focus in overcoming hunger should be on building stronger communities it is these communities which can provide mutual support to ensure that people don t go hungry kent demonstrates that there is not a shortage of food but of what amartya sen terms opportunities and that developing tight knit communities will lead to more opportunities for the hungry and undernourished ending hunger worldwide challenges dominant market led solutions and will be essential reading for activists ngo workers and development students looking for a fresh perspective the beginning of futility and futility ending in disaster discussed italys joining the allies and going on the offensive against austria hungary with berlins assistance deep penetrations were made into italian territory resulting in allied troops coming to italy's assistance while secret negotiations for a separate peace with vienna between u s president wilson and england's prime minister lloyd george failed a repeat habsburg offensive was halted followed by the issuance of the manifesto which would place the empires ethnics as independent nations under the habsburg crown a move which led to the disintegration of the habsburg army and empire this adelphi offers a series of economic perspectives on conflict resolution to show how the challenges of book 2016 a penetrating study of human character in a challenging environment david welky s seamless narrative chilling at times and always thought provoking transports the reader to a time when the arctic was virtually as harsh and inaccessible a place as the moon or mars natural history from a snow swept hill in the ice fields northwest of greenland famed arctic explorer robert e peary spots a line of mysterious peaks dotting the horizon in 1906 he names that distant uncharted territory crocker land years later two of peary s disciples george borup and donald macmillan take the brave steps peary never did with a team of amateur adventurers and intrepid native guides they endeavor to reach this unknown land and fill in the last blank space on the globe what follows is hardship and mishap the likes of which none of the explorers could possibly have imagined from howling blizzards and desperate food shortages to crime and tragedy the explorers experience a remarkable journey of endurance courage and hope set in one of the world s most inhospitable places a wretched and precarious situation is an arctic tale unlike any other at the time of independence few believed that a country made up of over 500 princely states and british provinces could survive as a nation even for a few years that a land stripped of its riches wracked by disease and famine and divided along tense communal lines could thrive in its ambition and aspirations yet in 75 years since independence india has grown beyond anyone s expectation today it s an asian powerhouse poised to become the third largest economy in the world in many ways this is one of the greatest underdog beating the odds stories in world history how did india get this far what were the sweeping social cultural scientific political military environmental and economic developments it witnessed along the way interspersed with personal anecdotes illustrations infographics informative timelines and pull quotes after midnight gives a powerful context to the present and revels in the diverse and remarkable ideas that have come to shape this great nation it attempts to provide young readers with perspective meaning and food for thought as they try to comprehend the many facets of this fascinating country this well researched accessible and definitive handbook tells the story of india like never before suspension and expulsion rates have doubled over the past three decades as zero tolerance policies have become the normal response to a host of minor infractions that extend well beyond just drugs and weapons students from all demographic groups have suffered but minority and special needs students have suffered the most derek black weaves stories about individual students lessons from social science and the outcomes of courts cases to unearth an irrational system of punishment while schools and legislatures have proven unable and unwilling to amend their failing policies ending zero tolerance argues for constitutional protections to check abuses in school discipline and lays out theories by which courts should re engage to enforce students rights and support broader reforms the
