no language has ever been before yet what makes english so important is its use as a lingua franca today english is spoken by three times as many non native speakers as native speakers this phenomenon raises the question whether a standard should be established and how it should be taught at school english as a lingua franca a new teaching paradigm this question will be discussed in this term paper i will begin with a short presentation about the distribution of english and its development into a global language kachru s famous three circle model describing the diversity of english speakers around the world will be examined with a critical eye the chapter goes on by trying to define the term lingua franca in chapter 3 the following current research projects will be presented lingua franca core lfc by jennifer jenkins basic global english bge by joachim grezga and vienna oxford international corpus of english voice developed by barbara seidlhofer chapter 3 deals with the question of teaching english as a lingua franca elf english has become the second language of everybody it s gotten to the point where almost in any part of the world to be educated means to know english says mark warschauer a professor at the university of california i will first of all focus on the status of english at school by looking at the curricula for teaching english in north rhine westphalian grammar schools moreover the difference between teaching english as a foreign language efl vs english as lingua franca elf will be examined research has shown that native speakers and their englishes have become relatively unimportant in international communication hence does it still make sense to teach native speaker norms the concept of teaching standard english will be critically analyzed the last part of this chapter deals with objectives in teaching elf as well its pedagogical implications seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject didactics for the subject english pedagogy literature studies grade 10 technical university of braunschweig englisches seminar course teaching english grammar and or lexis language english abstract english as a world language is becoming more and more important in our culture thereby affecting the english classroom and its participants the whole process of teaching english has been changing during the last decades and so have the students they already start learning their first foreign language at a primary school level and teachers have to be flexible to enable students to learn thereby teachers not only educate students what english is about and how it works but also the usage of it and particularly communication skills every student has a different ability when learning a second language some grasp it easily and develop sympathy for it others struggle and have difficulties which could lead to being demotivated and lack of interest this leads to the question what an english teacher can and has to do in order to teach students successfully nowadays teachers are supposed not only to educate but also to create a suitable environment for learners therefore it is necessary to perform many different roles in the classroom to fully achieve the best learning development roles which have its own characteristics work differently and have various aims first this leads to the question what a role actually is and i will give a short definition of it afterwards the various roles will be introduced and then described in detail what are the characteristics of a role what does it mean to perform it why is it necessary to do so these questions will be answered later on finally i will give a conclusion and a brief overview about the portrayed roles this best selling text provides comprehensive coverage of general teaching methods and models the most balanced text in its field learning to teach strikes a harmony by integrating researched based foundations with practical consideration and opportunity for real world application the
