medgar wiley evers put his life on the line to investigate racial crimes including emmett till s murder and to organize boycotts and voter registration drives on june 12 1963 he was shot in the back by white supremacist byron de la beckwith as the civil rights leader unloaded a stack of jim crow must go t shirts in his own driveway his was the first assassination of a high ranking public figure in the civil rights movement while evers s death ushered in a decade of political assassinations and ignited a powder keg of racial unrest nationwide his life of service and courage has largely been consigned to the periphery of u s and civil rights history in her compelling study of collective memory and artistic production remembering medgar evers minrose gwin engages the powerful body of work that has emerged in response to evers s life and death fiction poetry memoir drama and songs from james baldwin margaret walker eudora welty lucille clifton bob dylan and willie morris among others gwin examines local news accounts about evers 1960s gospel and protest music as well as contemporary hip hop the haunting poems of frank x walker and contemporary fiction such as the help and gwin s own novel the gueen of palmyra in this study evers springs to life as a leader of plural singularity who modeled for southern african americans a new form of cultural identity that both drew from the past and broke from it to quote gwendolyn brooks he leaned across tomorrow fifty years after his untimely death evers still casts a long shadow in her examination of the body of work he has inspired gwin probes wide ranging guestions about collective memory and art as instruments of social justice remembered evers s life s legacy pivots to the future she writes linking us to other human rights struggles both local and global a sarah art of using consciousness itself as the tool for creating changes in consciousness what does the hermetic axiom as above so below really mean the relationship
